As individuals each of us came, stepping slowly so as not to lose our way in the complex mass known as South Mecklenburg.

We quickly strived to become a part of our school . . . a part of our friends, a part of our classes, a part of our clubs, but still not united.

He was running from Margaret so fast... he forgot his books

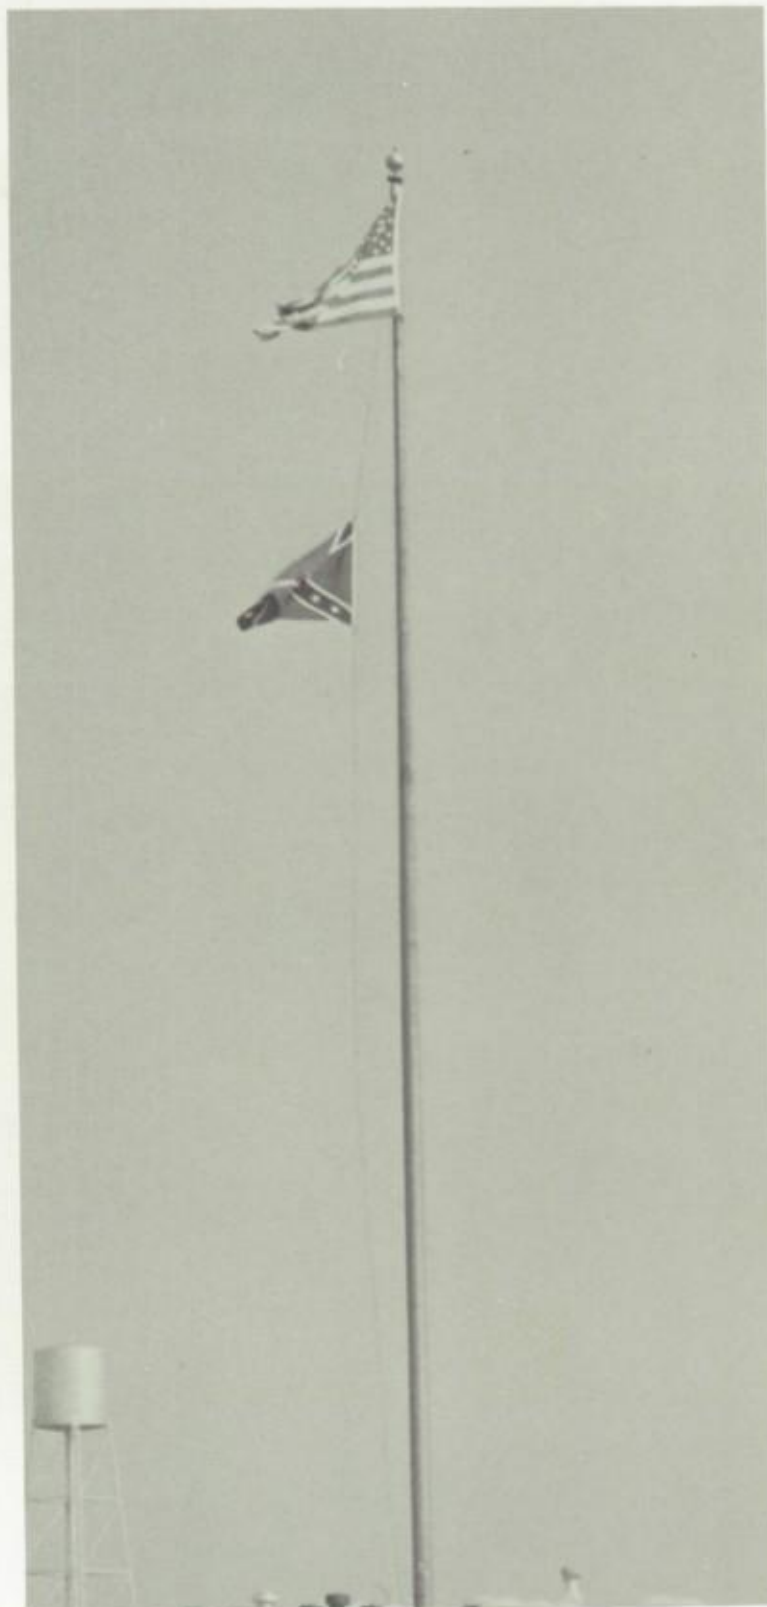

As the year progressed we, through our different activities, found new bond of a single goal.

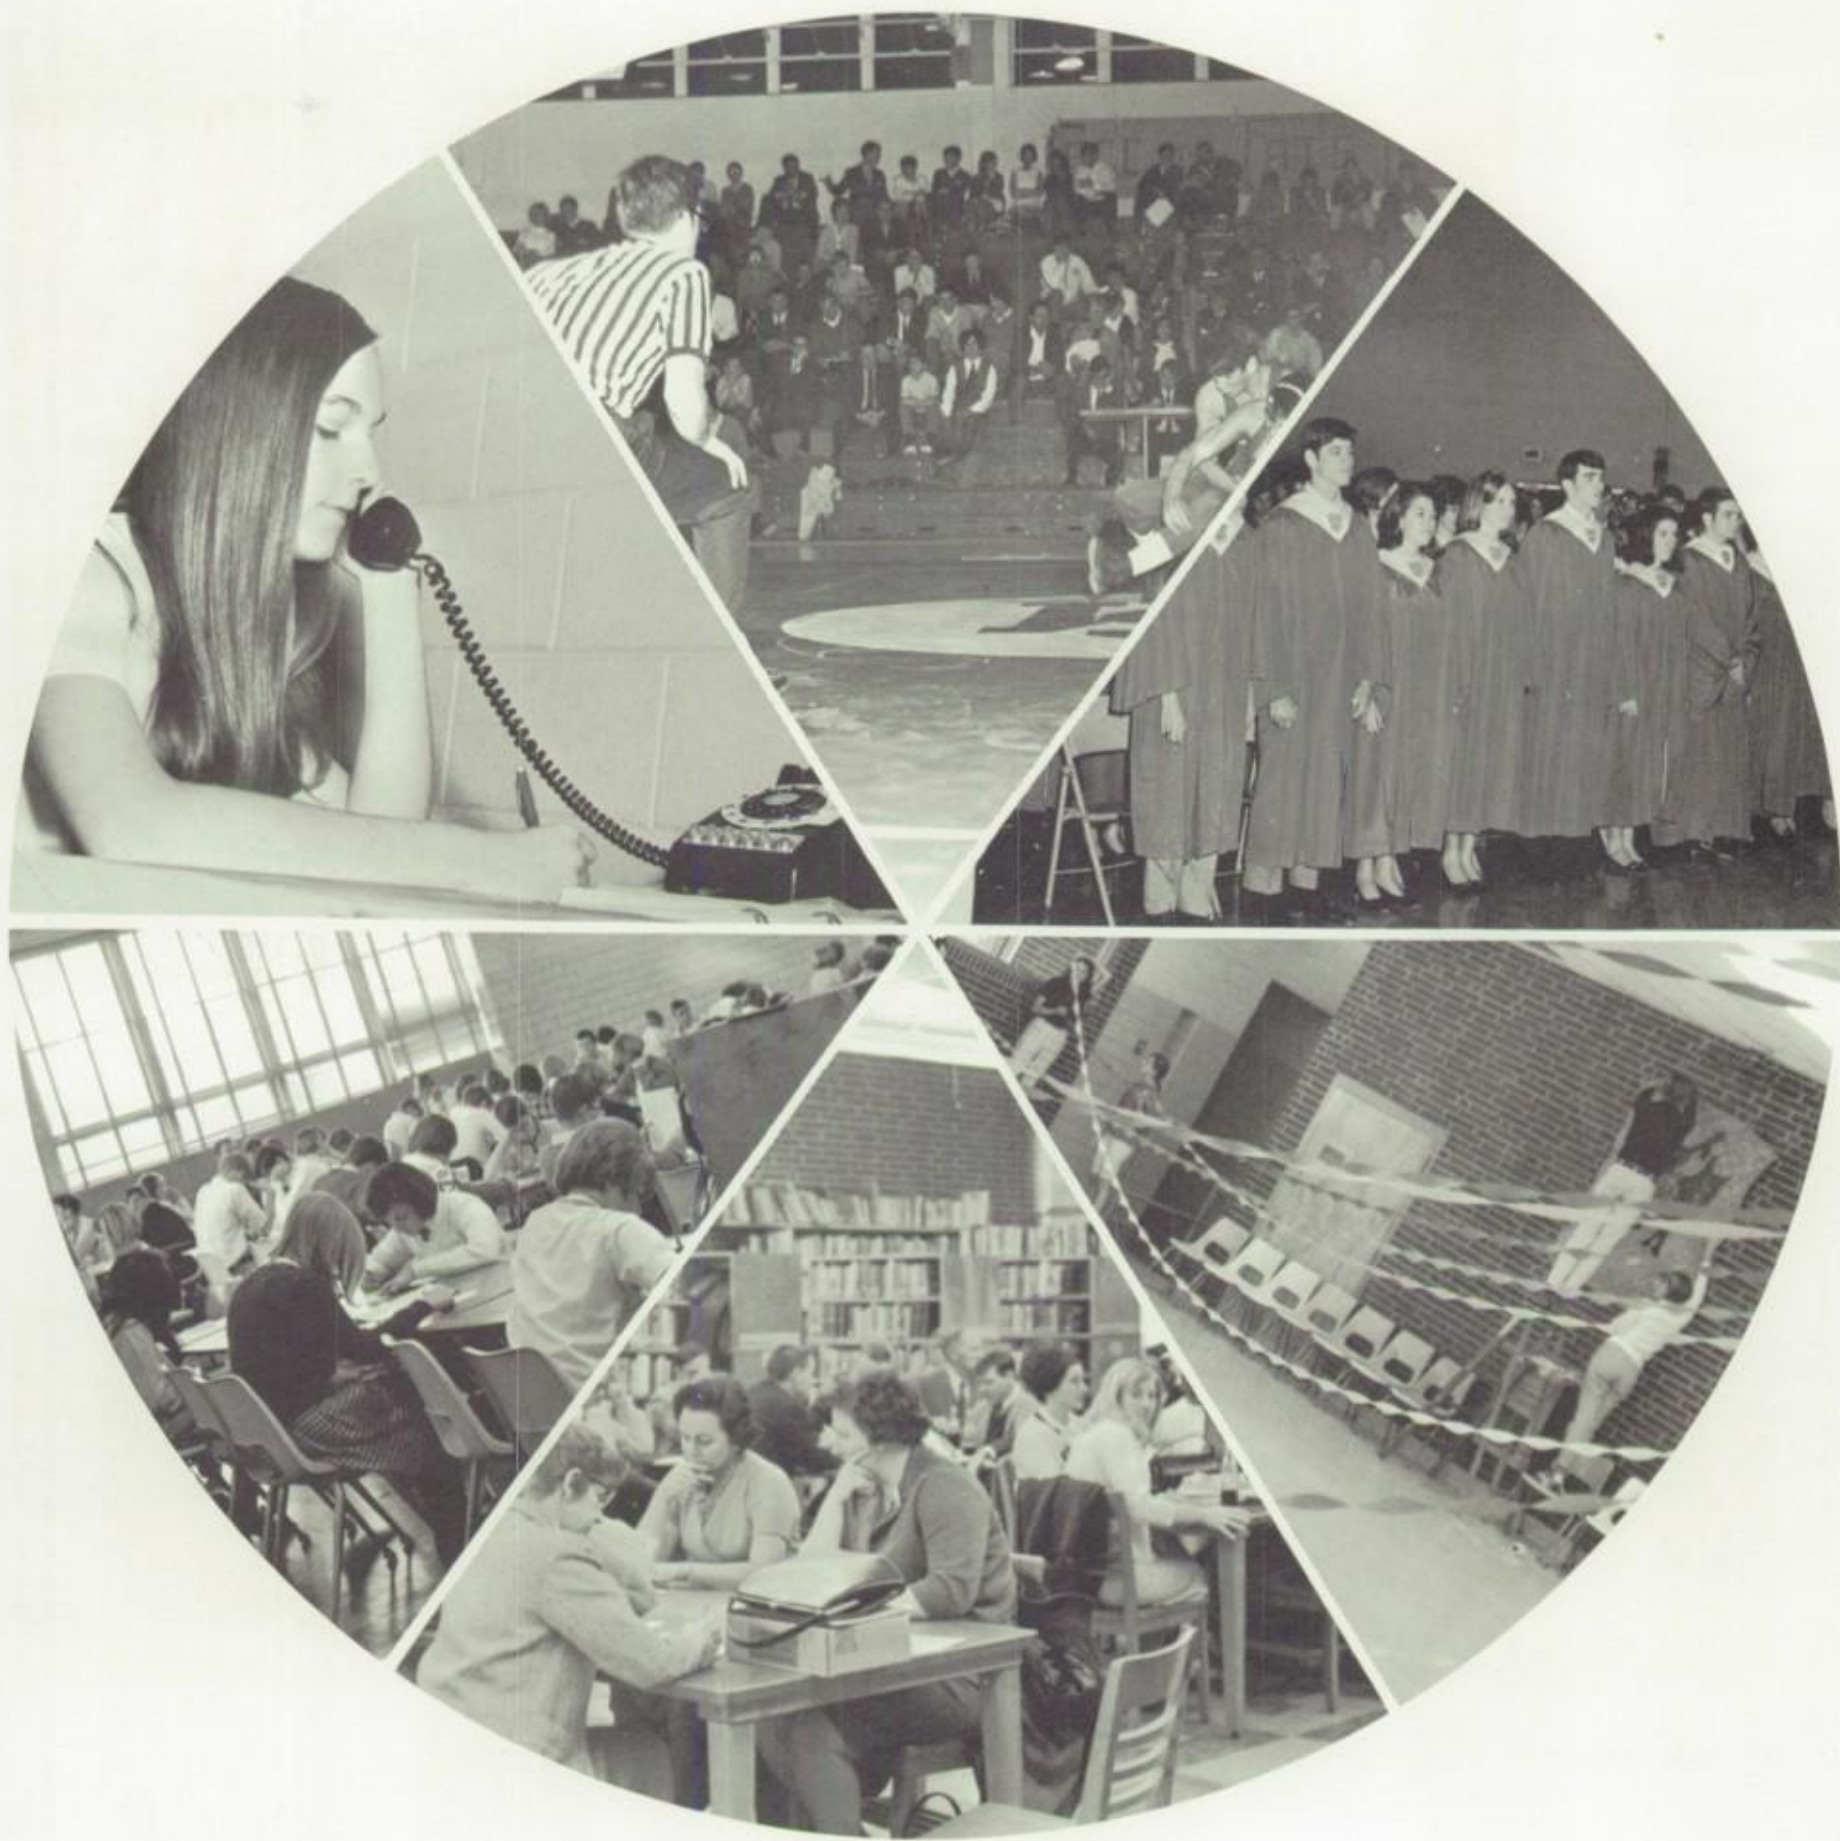

enjoyment in this

It was at the time of this bond of involvement that all became clear. We were not just ourselves, but we were a part—a small part of many that compose the whole South. But these parts together reveal the goal for which we strive

The Whole Is Equal To The Sum Of Its Parts

Mr. Neel's Diligence Yields Dedication

Mr. Neel contemplates how to improve the sophomore band.

Mr. Neel prepares the band for a last minute practice before the Carrousel Parade.

Mr. Neel directs the band in preparation for another perfect performance at the football game.

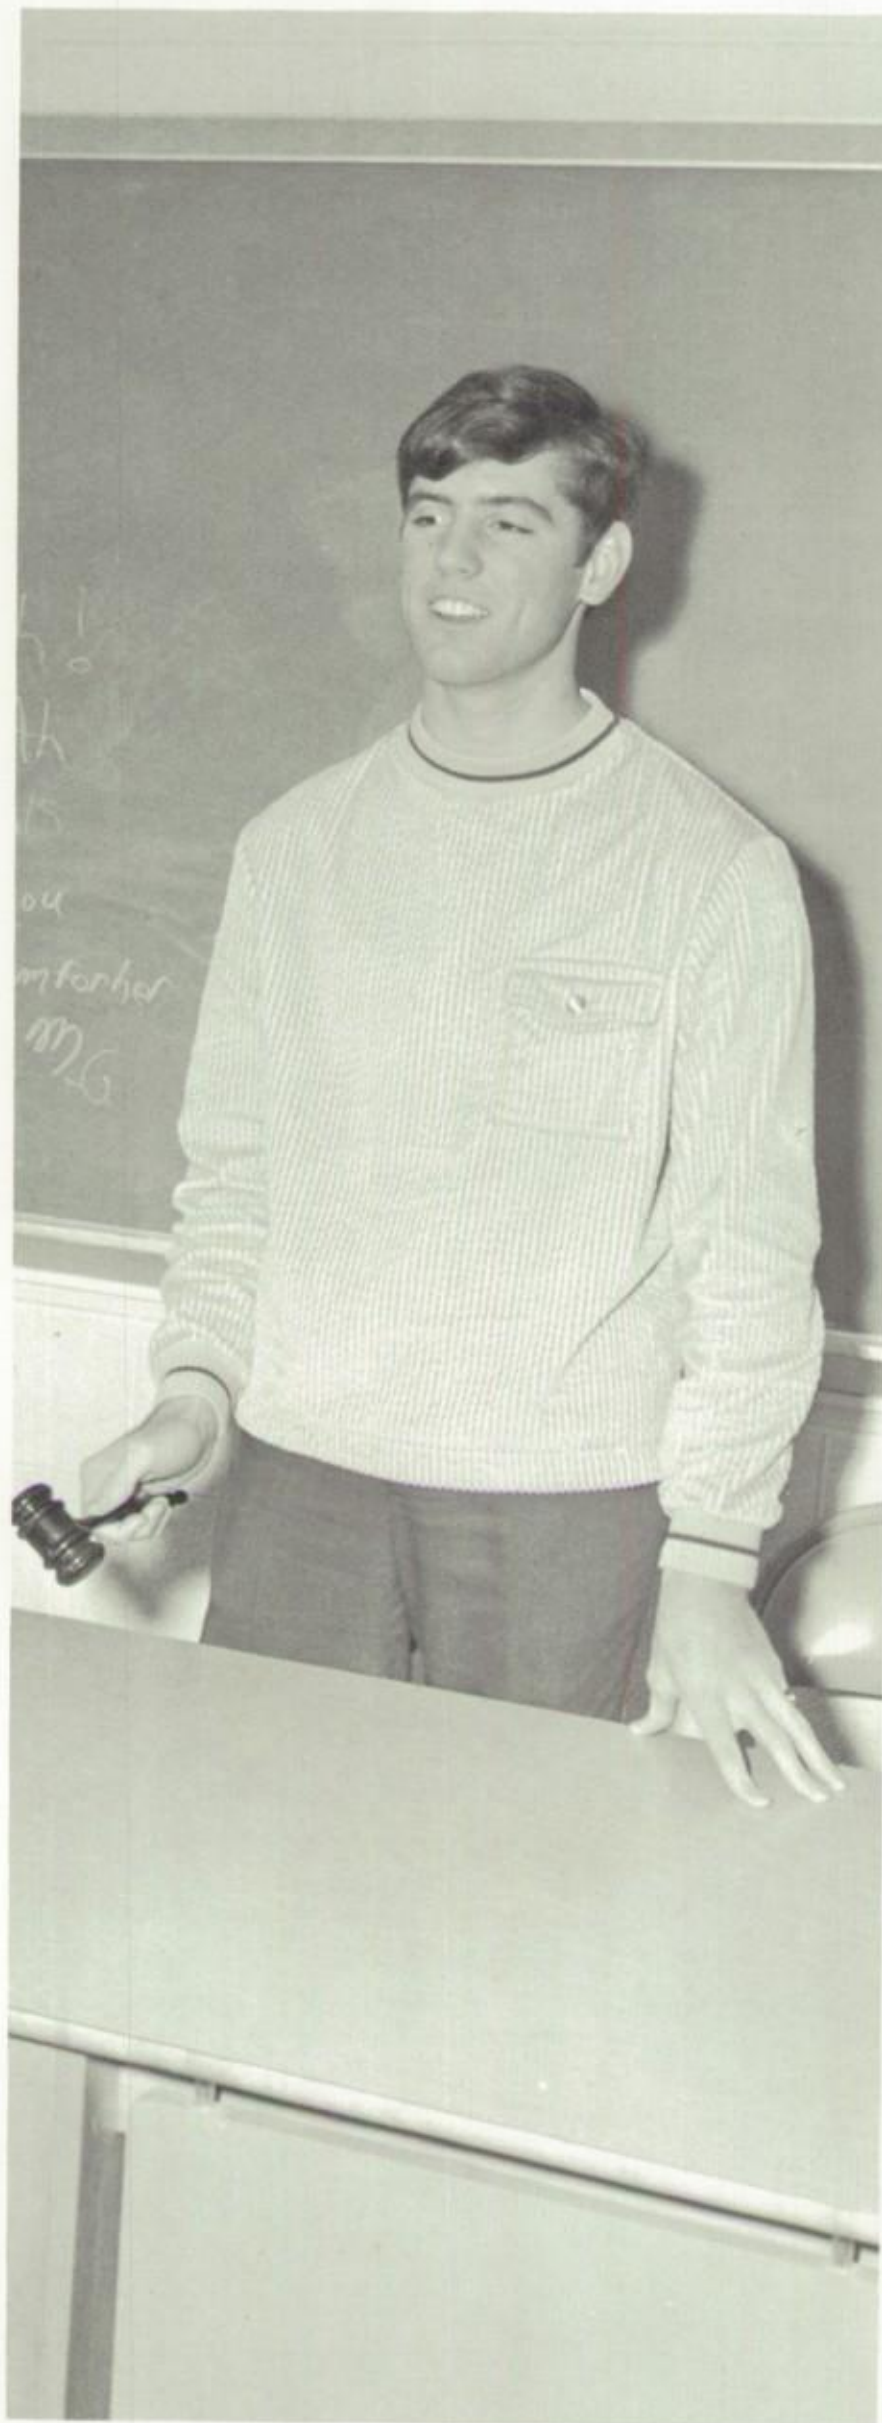

Mr. Neel's pride and joy – the South Mecklenburg Marching Band.

At the Christmas Program Mr. Neel directs the band in his popular arrangement of "Rudolf".

For nine years Mr. Neel has played a prominent part in South Mecklenburg High School. His constant efforts to help students to develop their talents and abilities has proved him to be a notable asset to the Music Department. He has willingly devoted much time and effort to creating ingenious band routines with popular musical themes, which have resulted in South Mecklenburg's Marching Band becoming number one in the heart of every Sabre. During the many long practices Mr. Neel's perseverance and sense of humor have been an incentive to his students to achieve their best. In addition to his unfailing originality, his ever-present diligence and his constant strive for perfection have been an inspiration to all who know him. Therefore, it is with great respect and sincere gratitude that we, the Class of '69, dedicate this Somecka to the man whom we honor and admire, Mr. Rayfield Neel.

"10-hut, 10-hut, 1,2,3,4!"—is the familiar sound which begins another football game, and shows the result of sixth period and after-school practices.

The sophomore band prepares for the two years in the central band by going through various marching drills and pattern practices. Spring turns the marching to concerts and contests. The band's Pancake Breakfast provides money for band projects and activities.

The orchestra adds the cultural note to our Music Department. Under the direction of Mr. McNeely it performs such familiar pieces as "Camelot." Working together our band and orchestra achieve the harmonious sound so well known to all Sabre fans.

At performance the Mixed Chorus sounds a joyous note.

Choir members rise to the Sabre Alma Mater.

That beat which is always being heard from the music building is truly the "Sabre beat." The voices of South students, under the direction of Mrs. Perry, are combined to produce an unique sound. The Mixed Chorus and Girls Ensemble add much to the quality of South's Music Department. The South Men and Teen Tones, two groups made up of choir students with exceptional vocal ability, voice South's talent to all by doing outside programs for other schools, churches, and social gatherings. At Christmas the Choir, a select group of ninety-two singers, presented a Memorial Service for Mr. Still. The Choir works diligently to achieve a perfect blend and resonant tone. As a result of much time, work, and effort, the Music Department presents the formal Spring Concert—a dazzling display of musical talent.

South Man?

On December 5 and 7, 75 hard-working South seniors presented the 1969 Senior Follies, "Way Down South". The presentations climaxed weeks of preparation and long hours of rehearsal. The students, teachers, and parents who flocked to Myers Park Auditorium had the opportunity to enjoy the many varied talents of the Senior Class.

Some of the highlights of the two hour show were baton twirling routines, dramatic acts, song and dance numbers, and a special appearance by "Smyrkle" the caterpillar. Producer Jim Harvey, sponsors, Miss McNeely and Miss Underwood, and all the many seniors who worked behind the scenes and on stage, helped to make the Class of '69 Senior Follies the biggest and best yet.

Harboring an attraction for all of South's artistically-minded students, the Art Club endeavors to encourage cultural development among its members. The club participated early in the year in a fence-painting contest sponsored by First Union National Bank. Later club members helped to create and hang the Christmas window, which could be seen by everyone over the holidays at Shoney's Restaurant. Providing the students with an opportunity to display their work, the Art Club sponsored several art shows where paintings, statues, and various textile designs were placed on sale. Proceeds from these sales were used to purchase much-needed materials and supplies for the Art Department. The Art Club offers South an opportunity for cultural activities and aids the students in self-expression.

Drama Students Take To The Stage

"Arsenic and Old Lace"—the product of talented dramatists.

Drama Club officers display dramatic skills.

For the talented student who wishes to explore the many facets of the theater, South's Drama Club has earned a place as one of the most active, hard-working clubs. Under the expert guidance of Mrs. Link and accented by the brilliant abilities of Duke Ernsburger, president, and Tobi Wallace, vice-president, the club produced the play "Arsenic and Old Lace," which was well-liked by all who attended. Besides the actual performance of a play, members of the club learn about all phases of the production of a play—from the application of make-up to the selling of tickets. Through the efforts of the Drama Club, the dramatic side of Sabres is revealed to the whole of her students.

Make-up techniques transform David Holbrook into devious villain.

Literary Society maintains paper-back book store.

Today many students are unaware of the good literary works available for reading. The purpose of the Literary Society is to discuss these works in detail. The book store, sponsored by the Literary Society, provides the student with books ranging from classics to contemporary novels. Promoting a well-read student body, the Literary Society ranks highly among the cultural clubs at South.

Even though the Chess Club is one of the newest clubs at South, its youth has not hindered its progress. The varsity team hopes to bring South the conference championship. Through practice at monthly meetings and the development of intense concentration, chess members acquire the techniques important to avid chess players.

Continued practice is important to hard-working G.A.A. members.

The Girls Athletic Association enables girls interested in sports to participate in such activities as field hockey, track, basketball, and speedball. Not only does this club cultivate athletes, but it also strives towards making the girls better Sabres. Emphasis is placed on development of sportmanship, character, and leadership. In view of these qualities, the G.A.A. awards a scholarship to a deserving senior member of this club.

In the Girls Athletic Association, each girl learns the importance of teamwork. Thus, the sum of the individuals makes the whole team successful.

Bus Drivers Transport Our Student Body

Club officers and advisor, Mr. Emerson, discuss route plans.

Drivers all pitch in and help with clean-up campaign.

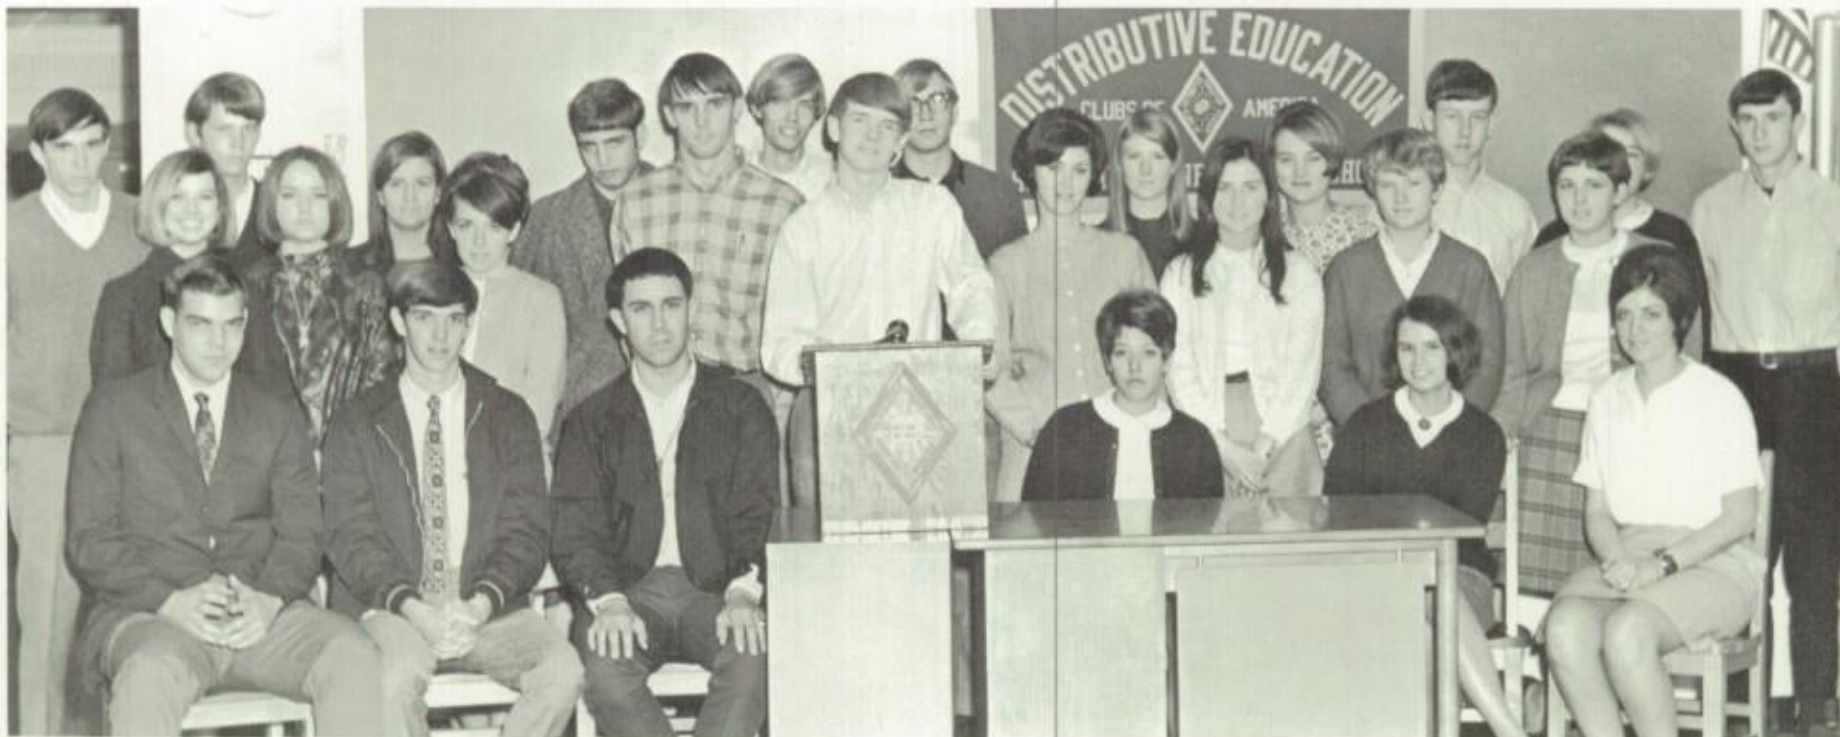

South's Bus Drivers' Club holds as its purpose "to promote safety, improve driver morale, increase the proficiency of drivers, and to recognize meritorious service." The club meets once a month with all regular and substitute drivers invited. One of the most informative programs held consisted of a speaker, Mr. J.W. Harrison, Superintendent of Bus Transportation for Mecklenburg County.

Adding a finishing touch to a year of dedicated service, the Bus Drivers' Club holds its annual picnic. On Award's Day, several certificates and bonds are presented to these drivers for outstanding service.

The Business Club helps students by acquainting them with the methods used in everyday dealings with people, thus providing the source of learning through practice and demonstration. The club has had several guest speakers and has taken an informative tour of Celanese Fiber Corporation. The Business Club does an excellent job of preparing the student who desires a future in the business world.

Everyone envies the lucky DECA member who ends his school day with three or four courses; but no one considers the long hours of work which compose his day. The club is a member of the Distributive Clubs of America, which is a national association of students who have entered the business world. Through their association with DECA, young business men can learn to get the most from the free enterprise system.

Dedicated Workers Serve South

Sabreland is kept spotless by janitorial staff.

One seldom-appreciated aspect of life at South is the service done by the janitorial staff and cafeteria workers. Under the direction of Mrs. Morrow, the cafeteria workers not only provide lunches daily for South's student body, but also these ladies are always ready to help students with special problems that arise. Mr. Poteat and his workers spend many long hours cleaning up the classrooms and school buildings. But even more important is their friendly attitude and willingness to help serve the student body. Without the excellent aid of these helpful people, many activities could not possibly take place. South Sabres should be extremely thankful for the valuable service these workers perform.

In addition to contributing to the school athletically, many boys who letter in a sport serve the school through the Monogram Club. Under the capable leadership of Coach Fred Boger this large club, consisting of fifty-six members, works the concession stand and sweeps the floor at the basketball games and the wrestling matches. They also sponsor the Student-Faculty game. Plans are being made now to set up a concession stand at the baseball games. These Sabre athletes not only practice good sportsmanship and enthusiastic school spirit, but also strive to improve South through competition and service projects.

The Key Part Of Service

Diligent work yields an informative scoreboard.

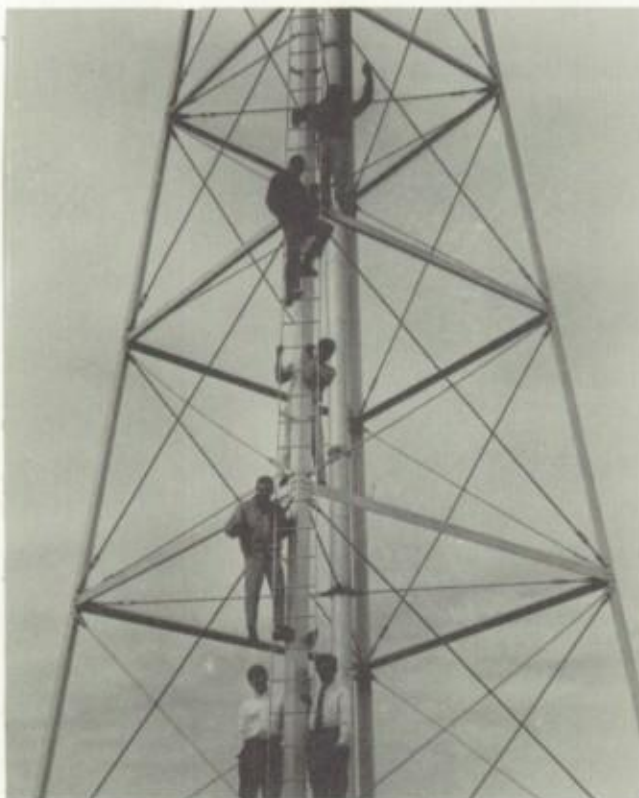

The motivating object of South's Key Club is to develop initiative and leadership. Already a financial success, the Key Club strives to be of service to South students by selling the much-demanded South Mecklenburg license plates and window stickers, buying flowers for the cheerleaders, and painting the student parking lot. They were also instrumental in placing the scoreboard in the lobby of the gym, which keeps the student informed of the sports' record of the school. Aiding the community, the Key Club supplies local libraries with monitors. They are also proud of their adopted orphan, Phung Thi Mai of Saigon, Vietnam. In school, community, and national life, the Key Club strives to be a part.

Interact officers aim for the top.

The Interact Club works all year to live up to its motto "Service Above Self". Among their services the club has carried trays in the lunchroom and ushered at the American 500 stock car race at a freezing 5:30 A.M. to earn money to support their school in Bolivia. In community services the club members give up Monday evenings to tutor underprivileged boys at Bethlehem Center. The club also hopes to give South a sign for the front of the school. Through their club activities and everyday attitudes, Interact members strive to serve in all senses of the word.

Interkeys Exemplify Service Through Example

Interkey officers and advisor explore new service projects.

College Day—Interkeys greatest success.

Interkeys made their presence known through projects during the year. By their "Ask Me" campaign and "Interkeys Welcome Sophomores" sign they welcomed and aided South students. Honor Week produced Interkey "Honor Means You" tags. Collecting for St. Jude's Children's Hospital and tutoring under-privileged students were Interkey projects, too. With the help of advisors Mrs. Lockhart and Mrs. Brevard, Interkeys produced the "Sleep-in" and the successful College Day, which was when all seniors were invited to learn more about colleges by personal contact with alumni. Laugh-in at Senior Follies was another contribution. Because an Interkey is selected on the basis of leadership, character, personal honor, and a desire to serve, she always sets an example. Most importantly an Interkey strives to BE rather than to SEEM.

When office work piles up, the Interkeys lend a helping hand.

A Language Revived Through Club Activities

Latin Club officers taste the fruits of success.

To introduce students to the exciting world of Latin culture and its effect on other cultures is the purpose of the Latin Club. Their many activities range from a lecture on Wedgewood pottery to slides on life in Italy.

One of the highlights of the year is the Latin Convention in Chapel Hill. At this elaborate affair, students compete in challenging contests and attend a festive banquet. At South's Latin Banquet first year students act as personal slaves to senators and knights. Latin may be dead as a language, but is very much alive and active through this club.

The Latin Banquet is the highlight of the year's activities.

Students experience the Christmas spirit of France.

French students display interest in club activities.

Students studying French who wish to further their knowledge of the language beyond the realm of classwork find a world of activities and group projects conducted by the French Club. Linda Dykstra, president, revised activities to provide a more interesting program for its members by scheduling the appearance of guest speakers, decorating a Christmas tree, learning French folk songs, and studying French magazines and records. Through participation in the French Club, the student is better able to explore the language and cultures of a nation alien to his own.

According to its constitution the purpose of the Sociedad Honoraria Hispanica is to recognize high achievement in the Spanish language and to promote interest in Spanish studies. The El Cid Chapter at South, sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Pedersen, has had an active year. President Melissa Daniel planned meetings with several interesting speakers, including Ecuadorian exchange student Jorge Aramillo, a student at Myers Park High School.

The beginning of March marked the annual induction for Sociedad Honoraria Hispanica. Those Spanish scholars maintaining a 92 average for two consecutive semesters were eligible for membership. The club closed their activities for this year with a picnic at Freedom Park.

National Honor Society is made up of students who have not only held a scholastic average of 2.5 for two semesters, but who have also shown the leadership, character, and willingness to serve which is required to be a member. These qualities are needed to help South and its students remain number one in every field.

National Honor Society, under the direction of President, Peter Jorgenson, and advisors Mrs. Harris and Miss Mecklenburg, has spent much time and effort in publishing the student directory. The members also maintained a tutoring service and organized the induction assemblies. This year at the fall inductions, forty-seven students were able to fulfill the requirements of the club. This growth in size has been accompanied by a growth in quality and service. The excellence of the National Honor Society is reflected in the fact that "honor" has become one of the key words at South.

One influential factor in editing the Southern Accent has been "keeping the student body well informed." With a realization that a newspaper must be attractive and informative, the staff produced excellent journalistic work.

Paul Mariette, editor, guided a spirited group in producing a punctual and practical newspaper. With capable assisting editors, Debbie Hartis, Susan Sangster, David Hemenway, Wanda Porter, Pam Strain, and photographer Dorr Depew, the quality of the paper demonstrated brilliant talent. Involvement has been the unifying force behind student council. The four officers, Mike Dailey, Jack Hobbs, Helen Graham, and Tobi Wallace, working together with committee chairmen and volunteers, have strived to make student council a vital part of student life. Starting the year with an Orientation program and a big-sister, big-brother project, they set out to make new students feel a real part. Inter-club Council got into full operation and is now co-ordinating all club activities. Sponsoring Honor Week, student council strived to convey the meaning of honor at South. The week was culminated with an assembly and guest speaker, Ty Boyd.

The council sponsored the Homecoming Dance and "The Night Before Christmas," both successful Southern events. All students took part in the "Hang Loose Day", raising over $1000, which enabled the council to complete buying the school store. By striving to involve the whole student body, the student council has become a part of all Sabres.

Before the season's opening, when pre-game jitters are common among all present, there awaits a group of girls whose outstanding enthusiasm and bubbling vitality enable them to be Sabre cheerleaders. The first cheer is sounded, immediately putting spectators in direct contact with the Sabre team. Yet little do fans realize the hours of preparation involved with the motions and lyrics of these cheers.

A cheerleader's summer is composed of poster practices, pompon making, and adding "punch" to hot football practices. During school the cheerleaders became masters of the kitchen and baked "spirit cakes," which they sold to the student body. Sabre cheerleaders, bringing another honor to South, were chosen number one "Pompon Marchers" in the Carrousal Parade. They act as good-will ambassadors, establishing good relations with rival schools. In essence, the cheerleaders are the heart of true feeling and spirited Sabres.

Advisor, Mrs. Morris and editor, Sharon Post, concentrate on proofs before the deadline.

The 1968-1969 Somecka staff has been more than a group of talented young people working together to produce just another annual. The staff is composed of hard-working, determined students led by a never-compromising editor who settled for nothing short of perfection, and a dedicated advisor. This year's staff has devoted unlimited time and unending energy to the yearbook. It has meant sleepless nights the day before the deadline, giving up a date night to work on an overdue section, spending a rainy Sunday afternoon taking outdoor pictures, keeping all those sweet mysteries a secret, cropping and recropping, erasing in triplicate, attentive proofreading, giving up lunch periods forever; but most of all it has meant being a real part of a vital student publication. The staff has endeavored to produce a yearbook with quality, but most importantly, they have strived to produce a Somecka that will mean something to every Sabre, and one that each South student will look upon with pleasant reminiscences.

Sabre Gridsters Compile 7-3 Season

After strenuous practices in intense August heat, the Sabres opened the 1968 football campaign against Myers Park on the turf of Memorial Stadium. The South backs gained 165 yards, while the defense yielded but 80 yards to the Mustangs. South's only touchdown was made in the first quarter by Jon Henkel. It was a slow way to start the season, but the Sabres were excited with their opening victory.

The South football team got their second straight victory of the season in a 35-6 triumph over the Lions of West Charlotte. After allowing the Lions to score first, the ground-minded Sabres, led by quarterback Wes Hege, rolled over West Charlotte. Skeet Harris scored twice, dominating the offense, while Steve Kerhoulas led the defense.

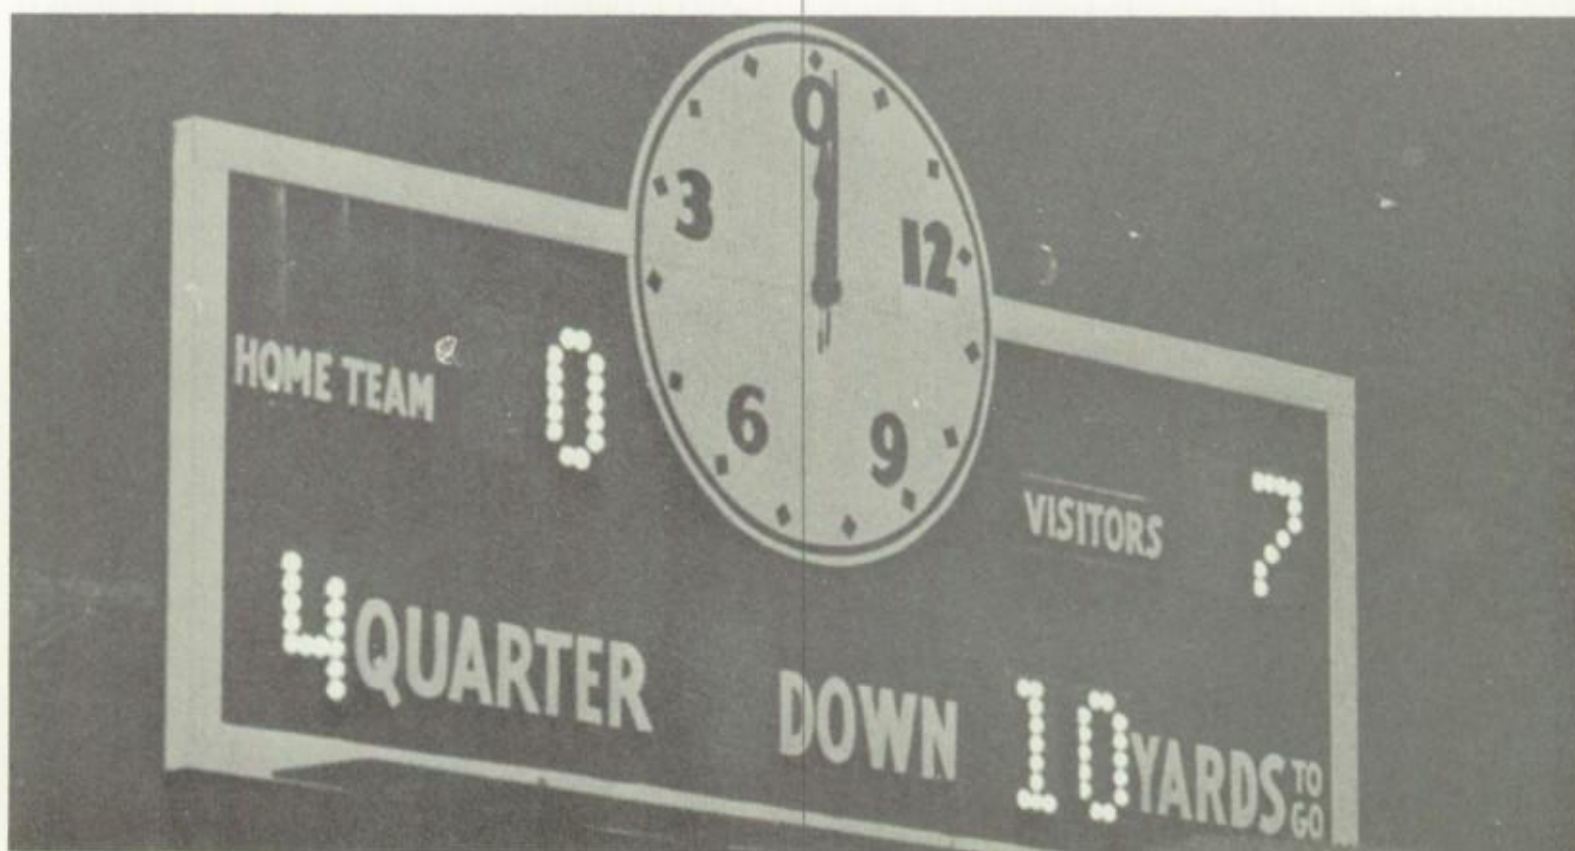

South went on to meet an undefeated Wadesboro team and turned them back 61-0. The Sabre offense established a new scoring record in South's history. Double scorers were the injured Skeet Harris, Doug Yeager, and Jeff Henkel, who connected five extra points and a field goal. George Swalchick dazzled the fans with a 60-yard punt-return touchdown, and Greg Garland latched on to one of the longest passes of the season.

South finally edged by Garinger on Wes Hege's last-second quarterback sneak. The Sabre's final drive covered 49 yards in the last three minutes with Doug Yeager and Skeet Harris doing the ground work. South scored the winning touchdown with 3 seconds remaining in the game, and gave the Sabre fans something to remember for a long time.

As South faced Harding for its 1968 Homecoming, the Sabres continued their steady performance by amassing 306 yards of total offense. The Sabres yielded 14 points in the third quarter and found themselves tied 28-28 in the fourth. Remaining calm, the team mounted a last minute drive, resulting in victory. Highlights of the game included Frank Redd's 70-yard punt return, Ret Elliot's 35-yard touchdown pass reception, and David Williams' 15-yard scoring run.

With an offense led by Ray Bottoms, Doug Yeager, and David Williams, each scoring once, the Sabres picked up 234 offensive yards and the sixth straight victory, a 21-7 win over Hunter Huss. The defense headed by Bob Reed and Robert Hoppe, plus the maintenance of good field position, was the key to victory.

A blue Monday was in store for the hundreds of South supporters, who traveled to Hickory to see their team drop its first game with a score of 35-7. South battled Hickory evenly for three quarters, until Hickory found three aces and completely overwhelmed the Sabres.

South found victory again with a romp of 28-19 over the Patriots of Independence. Williams was the game's leading gainer with 102 yards in 14 carries. Harris added 99 yards and Hege added 66 to put the Patriots in their place.

Although the Sabres played well, their loss to West Mecklenburg was the second of the season. The Warriors were allowed just a few too many short cuts and a few too many points, as they triumphed 21-20.

The 1968 season ended on a sour note with another loss for the Sabre team as East Mecklenburg won 14-0. The Sabres threatened deep in Eagle territory twice during the scoreless first half, but errors thwarted them both times. All in all the Sabres were unable to capitalize on their situations for scores.

Aided by Coaches Fred Boger and Bill Megginson, Head Coach Bob Patten led the Sabres to a 7-3 season. More honors were added by sending Skeet Harris to the N.C. - S.C. Shrine Bowl game, and by placing Sandy Carnegie, Skeet Harris, Steve Kerhoulas, and Doug Yeager on the All-County team, with almost every starting player receiving Honorable Mention.

Although the season had a disappointing end, every Sabre is proud to support his team in cheering "The South's gonna rise again."

With Denny Baldwin at the helm, South's newest sport completed its second year with an 8-6-1 record. Led by co-captains Butch Koerner and Kenny Horton, the Sabre soccer men got a big kick out of the season.

Horton was the team's leading scorer with twelve goals. David Abercrombie was second in scoring with eleven goals. Other outstanding Sabres were defensemen Manny Taylor and Craig McDonald; and offensive men Vernon O'Daniel and Robert Brown. J.B. Reeves was the man in the nets this season and had four shutouts to his credit. At the Fall Awards Banquet the Most Improved Award went to Vernon O'Daniel and the Most Valuable Award to Gene Hefner.

In only its second year as a varsity sport, soccer has established itself as a part of the sports scene at South. With a thirty-two man roster cut from over fifty students, it is evident that interest in soccer is developing.

Triumphing 64-54 Over East, South Advanced To State Finals

Sabre sports continued their winning ways during the winter of 68-69. Baffling the local "experts" and putting aside newspaper predictions, the Sabre courtmasters flooded Charlotte basketball and flushed out a 16-4 record. It marked Coach Dave Price's finest season and established South as a basketball power of the future.

South's basketball team started the season with a loss to '68 state champion, Wilmington. The loss, by a 66-59 score, taught the Sabres a lesson. The loss was the last for the Sabres for 14 straight games.

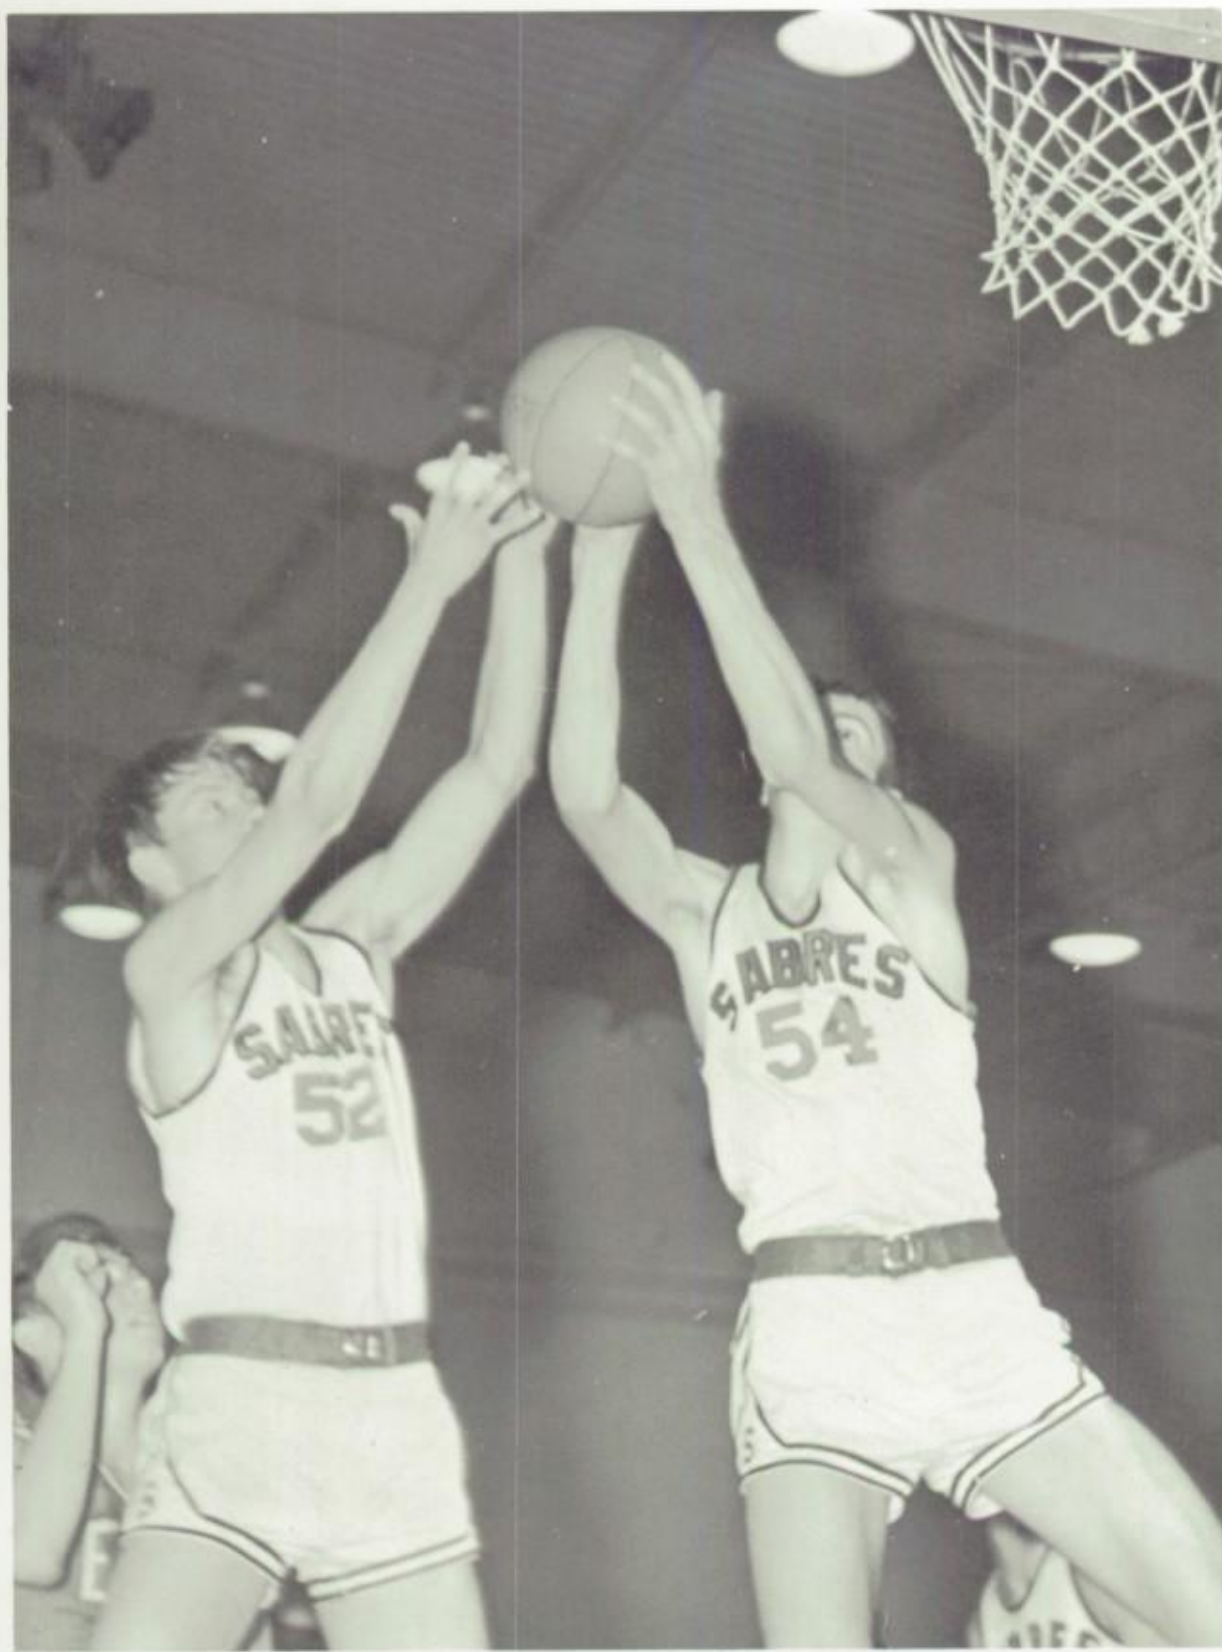

During the 14-game streak the Sabres demolished North and Olympic twice, Harding, West, and Hunter Huss. The season's ninth game brought the highly-rated first place East Eagles to South's gym. Behind Bobby Jones' 33 rebounds, a school record, the Sabres shot down the high-flying Eagles, 61-46.

The red and white team then cleaned-up Independence and traveled to Hickory to avenge the football loss of the fall. Hickory fell 50-47 behind Bobby Jones and fourth-quarter star Dee Jones.

South reeled off three victories against Garinger, West Charlotte, and Hunter Huss before the bitter taste of defeat touched Sabre lips again. On the last day of January the gym at East was packed far beyond capacity, turning away many fans. Excitement was high, but both teams played a tight defensive game and gave the fans a slow, often sloppy offensive contest. Hitting a miserable 28% from the floor, our Sabres fell to the high-flying Eagles, 41-29.

Behind Dee Jones' 26 points, South rebounded with a 67-50 victory over the Patriots of Independence. The next game and the next victory came at the expense of Hickory's Red Tornadoes. Bobby Jones and Don Sherrill combined to overwhelm and let the "wind" out of Hickory. Against Garinger's Wildcats the Sabres unloaded a balanced-scoring attack with four starters finishing in double figures, the result was a 66-46 victory.

Herb Guin and the Lions of West Charlotte caught the red and white sleeping in the first quarter and jumped to a 19-6 lead. It was all the Sabres could do to make up the deficit and after tying the game in the late stages the Sabres fell 54-53.

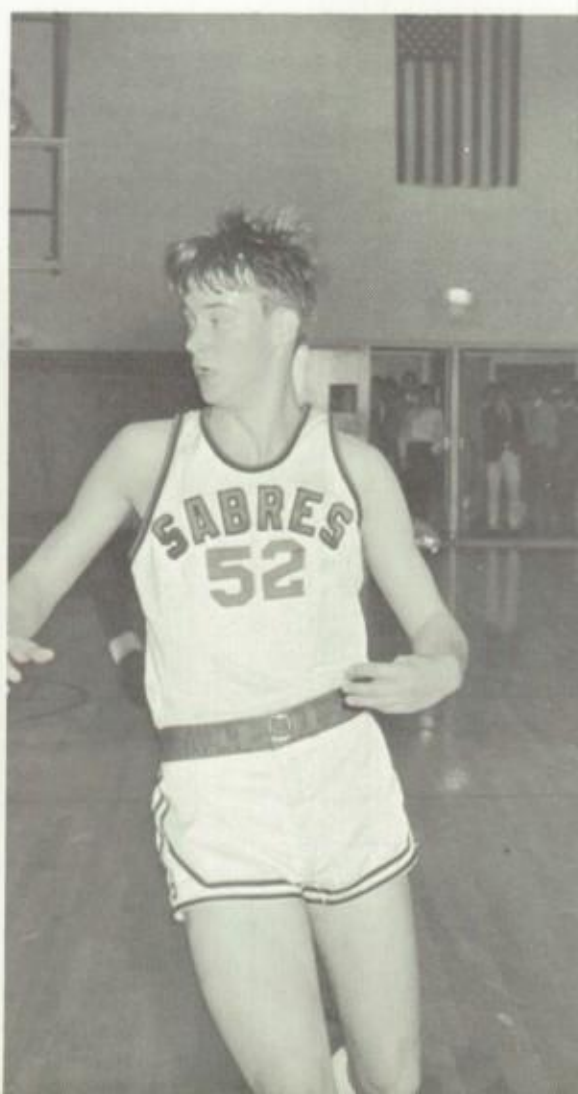

The final regular season game was against Myers Park at their gym. The Sabres fell to some phenomenal shooting and took the second straight defeat and the fourth of the season by a 63-56 score.

The Sabres participated in the 4-A post-season tournament and represented South well. The first-round game was against the Olympic Trojans. Behind Bobby Jones' school record of 43 points, the Olympic five were completely overwhelmed 72-52.

The entrance of South into the second round of the tournament was a rematch between the Sabres and the "mules" of Myers Park. The Mustangs jumped to an early lead, but as the game progressed Bobby Jones proved too much for Myers Park. In a hard-fought contest the Sabres earned a well-deserved victory, 66-64.

Gregarious Grapplers Grip Opponents

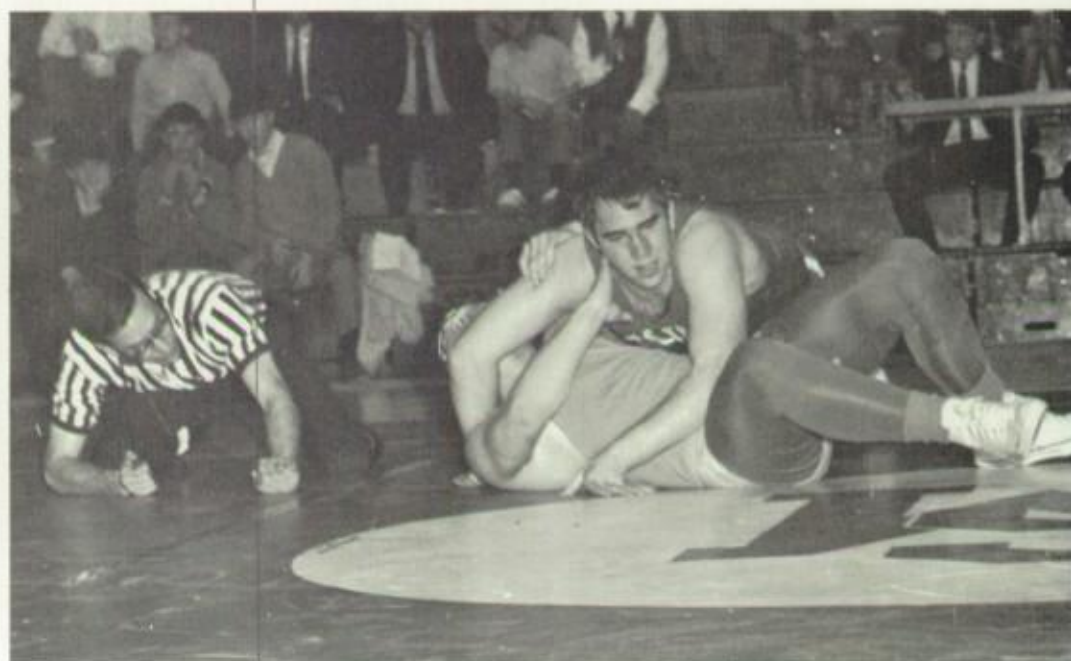

In the 1968-69 season wrestling took its rightful place as a major sport at South. With good crowds at home matches and the cheering of the lettergirls, our wrestling team posted a 9-3 regular season record.

Captains of the team were Brek Cunningham and Robert Hoppe. Co-Captain Cunningham had the team's outstanding record with eleven victories and one defeat. Valuable underclassmen were veteran Arch de Castrique, (112), who posted a 7-4 record and David Bursley, (95), who posted a fine 6-2 record. Mangling matman Bill Painter added strength in the middleweights by accomplishing an 8-3 record in the 133 pound division.

Two of the Sabre defeats against Garinger and Independence came by a mere point. Only Myers Park soundly defeated our grapplers and only then when South was plagued by a rash of injuries.

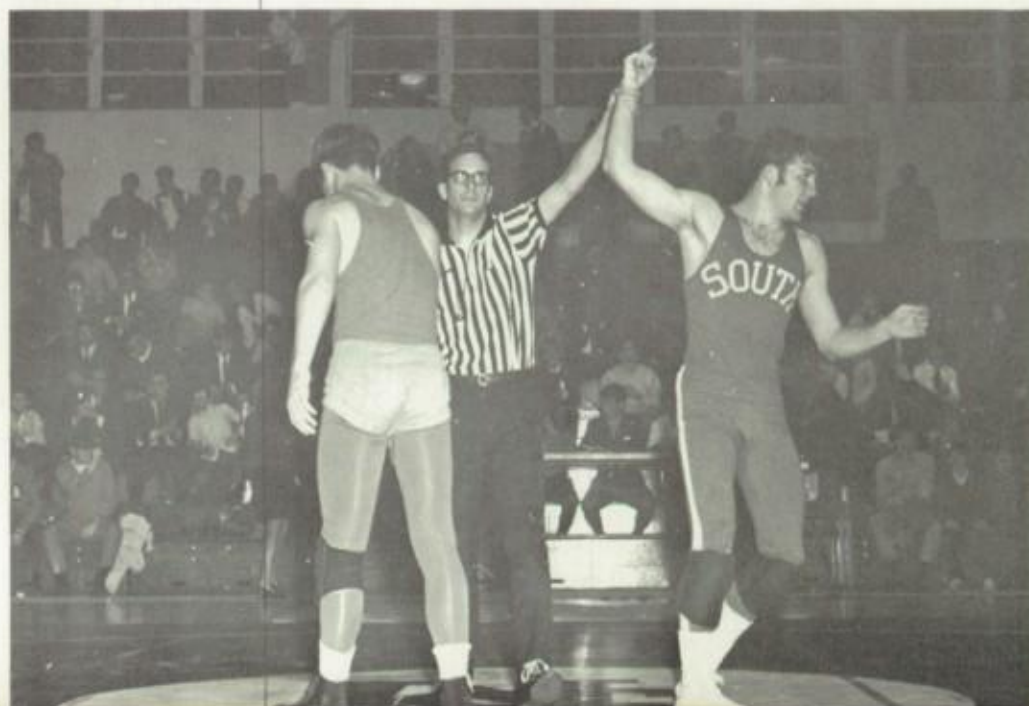

Special honors went to Robert Hoppe who finished second in the 4-A Invationals and was one of the top ten in the state tournament. Two new awards started by Coach Burris were for the fastest pin and fastest takedown of the season. Hank Wall accomplished the fastest takedown, :03 seconds and Arch de Castrique came up with the fastest pin, :25 seconds.

Graduation will be a hard blow to the team for six of the top wrestlers will receive diplomas in June; however Coach Burris' foresight has led him to take an effort this year to develop some strong underclass matmen.

Under mentor Fred Boger, the 1968 baseball team had what must be termed a rebuilding year. With underclassmen manning most of the positions, the Sabres had many afternoons of defeat. The record of 6-12 at least showed some sign of progress and allows hope for '69.

Individual stars were first baseman Tom Van Dyke, outfielder Mike Vaden, and pitcher Mike Clark. Strong in the batter's box were Bruce Fernie, Wes Hege, and Ray Peck. Sabre fielders accumulated forty-six errors in the season to account for many defeats. 1969 promises to be brighter for the Sabres lost only five seniors and will be experienced at all positions. Tri-captains will be Wes Hege, Bruce Fernie, and Mike Cassel.

Bill Nelson wins the hundred yard dash.

Under Coach Mac Herndon the '68 track team made strides toward the building of a strong track dynasty. With a squad highlighted by underclassmen, the team finished a strong fifth in the 4-A Conference and tenth in the state.

In regular season meets the South trackmen finished second three times and first twice. The team also competed in the North Mecklenburg Invitational and the Duke-Durham Relays, finishing second and twelfth respectively.

Sophomore Bobby Jones was the most valuable player for the Sabres, and also state high jump champion with a record jump of 6' 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ ". Other outstanding individuals were Bill Nelson who was Most Improved in 1968, and Joe Hamilton. School records were established by Bobby Jones, high jump; Bill Nelson, 100 yard dash (10.0 sec.); and Rick Elkins, mile-run (4.38.4). Much can be expected of Coach Herndon's 1969 crew because he will have fourteen returning lettermen and a fine group of sophomores with which to work.

Under Coach James Kilday the 1968 Sabre tennis team compiled an impressive 9-2 record. South's only losses were to an undefeated East team and to Myers Park.

The Sabres were led by senior netman Kirby Jones, who also took first place in the sectional tournament at Chapel Hill. Other top netmen were underclassmen Richard Robinson, Myles Levin, Bobby Marx, and Milton Martin. The 1969 racqueteers, coached by Bill Megginson, will possess talent as well as experience and bring to South the hope that another young sport will continue to improve its record.

Victory foreshadows practice.

Jim Wylie prepares for a hard day on the links.

The 1968 South golf team compiled a fine 35-12-2 record and finished third in the 4-A conference tournament. Jim Wylie and Greg Ledford were Sabre linkmen who qualified for the state tournament.

The 1969 outlook is bright for new Coach Bob Patten since the team lost only two members to graduation. Returning in addition to Wylie and Ledford are senior Ray Brown and George Acker who will add depth to the squad. Besides competition on the high school level, the team will engage in professional golf this summer when members of the squad will caddy at the Kemper Open at Quail Hollow Country Club. South's fast-developing golf program has the rest of the 4-A high schools "green" with envy.

Swimmers Plunge Into Action

South continued its dominance in the Charlotte sports scene with a fine swimming team. The Sabre sharks, led by co-captains Robbie Dickson and Bill Standish, compiled the county's best swimming record, 10-1, enabling our swimmers to have a shot at the number one spot in the state. Highlights of regular season meets were victories over East twice and a tri-team victory over North and Myers Park.

The team rewrote the school record books and established several meet records in post-season meets. Leading the attack on records were Jim Schliestett and Doug Fleck.

In the Southwestern Interscholastic Meet in Atlanta the Sabres placed sixth out of 62 southern high school teams. At Chapel Hill in the Southern Interscholastic Meet the team captured third place aided by Dickson and Schliestett.

The swimming team brought honors to South when Jim Schliestett and Robbie Dickson earned High School All-American honors. These two athletes are the first high school All-Americans in Sabre history.

remainder of the season with a kidney injury. Line play by guards, Rudicil and Bowden, were other offensive bright spots. The red and white defense was led by John Chapman, linebacker, and Lyn Potts, defensive end. Although not successful in the win-loss column, the J.V. players did receive training and experience, which will aid South's varsity football program.

Conference Champions Bounce to Victory

South's J.V. basketball team rallied to post a 16-4 regular season record, providing the mighty Sabres a number one position in the conference. John Chapman was leading scorer for the team with an average of 12 points. The team, headed by Lin Potts, Randy Rhino, Steve Vaden, and Jimmy Helms, coasted to tally one of the most impressive records in Sabre history. Placing third in the conference tournament, the Sabres were guided through "ups and downs" by the skillful coaching of Mac Herndon. Losing only to Hickory, North, Myers Park, and West Charlotte the flamboyant five deserve Sabre recognition and pride.

These pitchers poured it on in the '68 season with a 12-2 season.

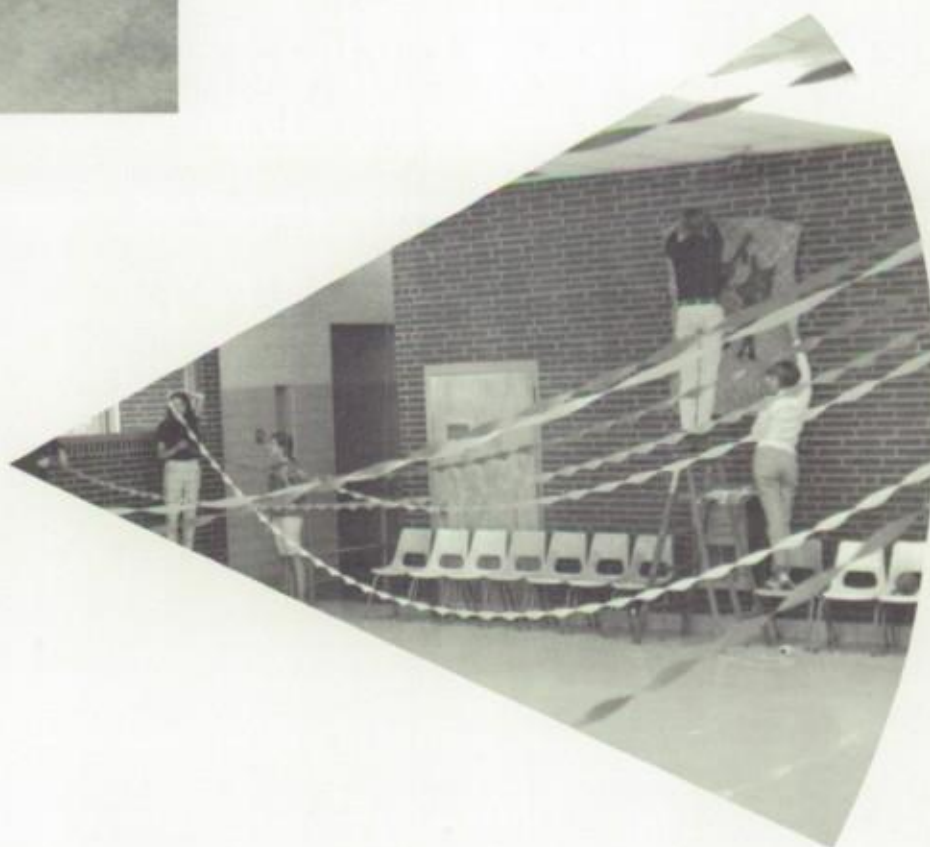

South's 1968 J.V. baseball team compiled a 12-2 record and won the 4-A conference trophy. Under the guidance of Coach Baldwin, the J.V.'s developed into fine varsity prospects for the 1969 season.

Jay Pennington was the leading pitcher with a 6-0 record that included 3 shutouts. Chuck Rodgers and Johnny Morris were other Sabre moundmen.

The team averaged .275 at bat, with nine players hitting over .250. Leading South batter was Rodgers with a .366 average.

With a fine record and the conference trophy, the J.V.'s have excellent credentials to present to varsity coach Fred Boger in 1969.

Sabre Homecoming: South of the Border

Homecoming nominees await crowning.

Mexican sombreros, brilliant red ponchos, and South's own Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass, filled Memorial Stadium arena with gala sight and festive sound on October 4, South's Homecoming. The brave Sabre matadors defied the charging bulls from Harding High School. Taking the "bull by the horns," the courageous Sabre team took a commanding lead, and set the pace for the Homecoming theme, "South of the Border." The superb and skilled Sabre band thrilled spectators with their rendition of the songs "Lonely Bull" and "South of the Border." Siestas were scarce as the beautiful señoritas nominated for Homecoming Queen were introduced. At the Homecoming Dance held "south of Charlotte's border," Prissy Myers reigned as Queen over the Homecoming festivities. Those Sabres participating in this year's homecoming can be assured that "South of the Border" is truly where the action is!

Charlotte Exchange Student Program is the only city-sponsored program of exchange students in the United States. By attending each meeting, the students become better acquainted with the exchange students and their foreign backgrounds. During the year the Charlotte Exchange Student Program sold note cards to raise money for the financing of a trip for the student chosen to represent Charlotte abroad. C.E.S.P. also enjoyed decorating the cars in which this year's exchange students rode in the Carrousel Parade. Viveca Arenander from Sweden, Christian Licht from Denmark, and Stephan Pistauer from Austria have added a personal flair to the exchange program this year. Under the direction of Melissa Daniel, chairman, C.E.S.P. benefits international understanding and co-operative education.

In recognition of their interest and ability, the National Science Foundation invited Barbara Robinson and Rick Elkins to attend a symposium at Chapel Hill. Here they had the opportunity to study topology, to learn about computer programming, and to perform fascinating labs along with students from all over the country. The participants had a choice of two major fields in which to work; Barbara chose biology, and Rick chose chemistry.

Not only did the National Science Foundation make their summer more enjoyable, but it also enabled Barbara and Rick to gain valuable experience in a field which is becoming an increasingly important part of South and of the world today.

Varied Talents Recognized

South is proud to have three alumni of the highly selective Governor's School. These talented vocalists, Susan Carter, Dell Kendall, and Doug Newell, spent six weeks last summer studying under some of the finest musicians in the state. While at Governor's School, Doug composed "Kyrie Eleison" which the South Choir performed at the first PTA meeting. Susan, Dell and Doug all show a sincere interest in music by being members of the South Choir. All three consider Governor's School as one of the most worthwhile experiences of their lives.

After carefully considering junior girls the guidance counselors selected active and vivacious Donna Salzer and Janice Alberto as representatives from South to Girl's State. This conference in Greensboro was designed to acquaint representatives with N. C. politics. Both girls were members of the Nationalist Party; Janice serving as party chairman and Donna as precinct chairman. Both agreed that the conference was not only interesting and entertaining but also educational.

After Mark Ellington and Mike Dailey were selected to represent South at Boy's State, they encountered a week of political experience. Mock elections and government studies provided knowledge in modern politics. Mike Dailey's eloquent speaking and brilliant ideas helped elect him Governor of N. C.'s Boy's State.

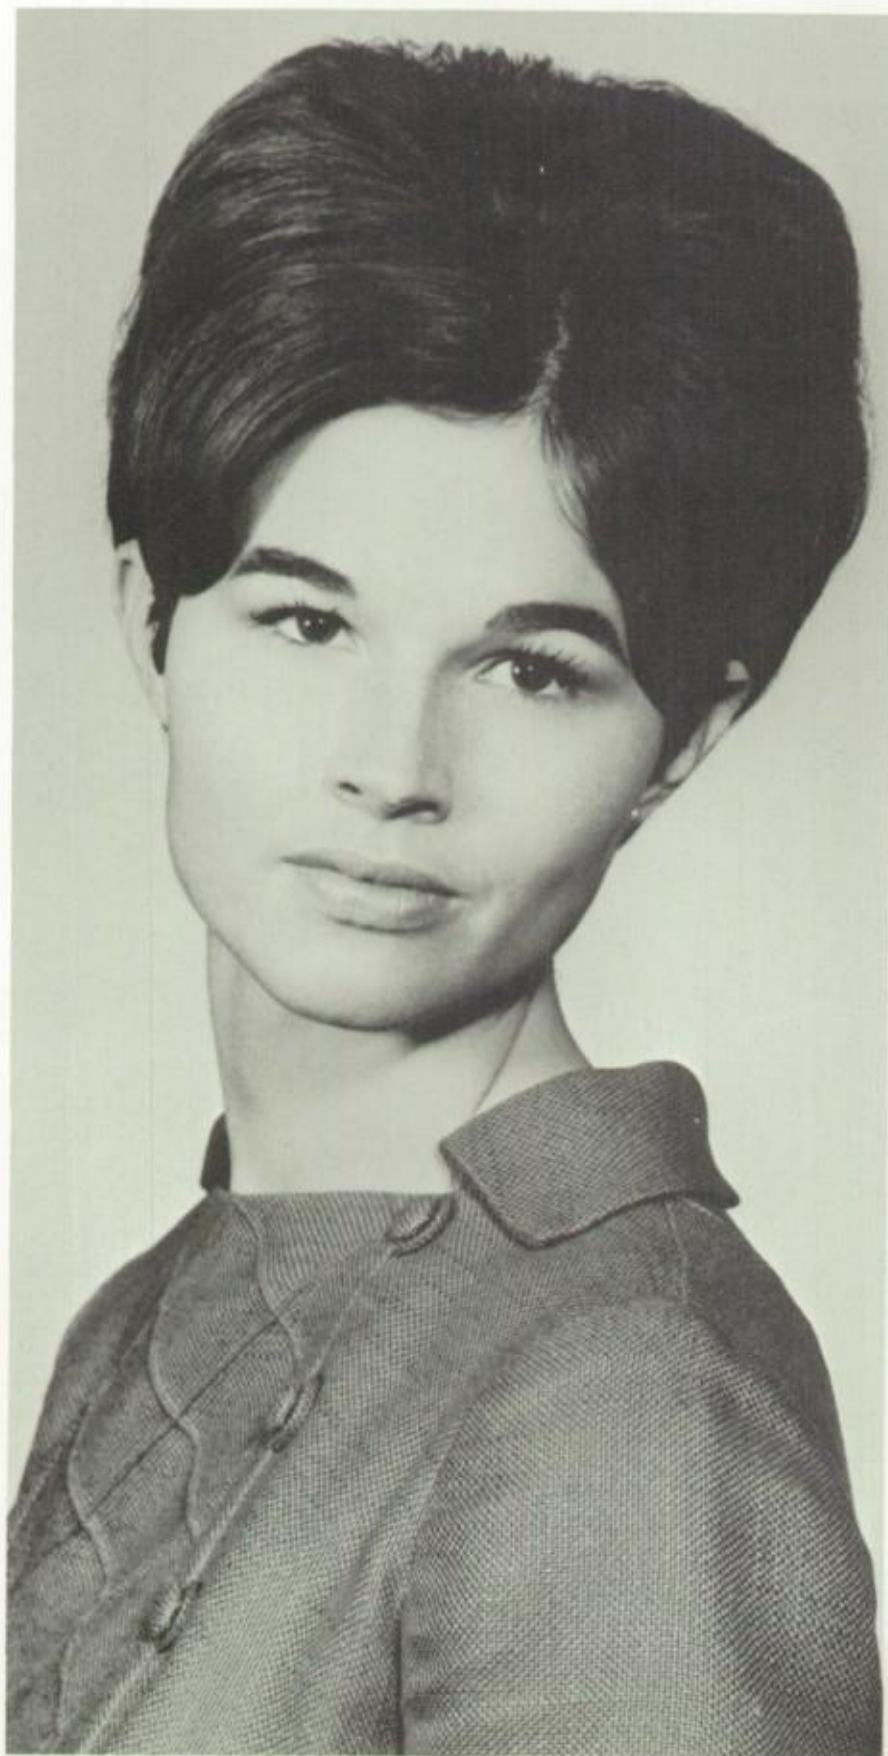

Having set a true example, Miss Helen Graham was selected to receive South's Daughters of the American Revolution Citizenship Award. Nominations were taken from the Senior Class and the final selection was made by faculty members. As Sabres take pride in Helen's accomplishments, they will continue to look to her for an example.

Outstanding Sabres Earn Merit

Four South students, Linda Dykstra, Marguerite Duffy, Wanda Porter, and Robert Shoaf were selected to represent their school at a youth conference sponsored by the Civitan Club at Wildacres, a camp in Little Switzerland, N. C. These students were selected by the principal according to their merit, participation in school activities, and scholastic averages. The conference dealt with topics including human relations, school problems, religion, scientific fields, and integration. Topics for discussion were presented, reviewed, and studied while students offered various solutions to each question. South's representatives returned with a better understanding of current conditions.

Senior Class Beauty

Miss Susie Starnes

In an attempt to select class beauties on the basis of their beauty, grace, charm, and poise a different type of competition was held. Girls were nominated from each homeroom and judged by a panel consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Summey and Mr. Jack Pride. Fifteen girls, five from each class, were selected as finalists. These finalists were photographed and the pictures were submitted to the Executive Committee of the Miss North Carolina Pageant for final judging. The Committee judged each girl on every aspect of her beauty and the final selections were made.

Curriculum

During Orientation Tea faculty and administration get off to a good start.

This year South opened its doors to more students than ever before. With this growth has come a greater burden of responsibility upon the administration.

In the face of this challenge Mr. Edmisten has become more than an administrator; he has become a guide to both student and faculty. Our principal, serving as the mainstay of our school, promotes unity by open lines of communication among student, faculty, and administration.

From the opening of the school doors to sending the students home in buses, Mr. Emerson devotes himself to our school. He spends many tedious hours of work at school long after the students are gone. His interest in student affairs, in addition to his duties as assistant principal, has earned him the admiration and respect of every South Sabre.

Re-accreditation is a major factor in the minds of everyone at South this year. With this added responsibility, our secretarial staff has been delegated much extra work; but the job is in competent hands. Although they are constantly busy, Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Cooper, and Mrs. Gibson are always ready to lend a hand to any student.

As Seniors face college, Juniors face the selection of a college, and Sophomores face three years of high school, our guidance counselors and their assistants provide a great service to the student. Be the task helping to choose a life's occupation or simply to confirm a schedule, Mrs. High, Mrs. Lockhart, and Miss Mecklenburg are ever ready to help.

Serving as head of our English Department, Mrs. Edythe Price co-ordinates the curriculum by producing a balanced program of study. South also offers her students courses in drama, journalism, and public speaking. Several levels of reading improvement have been added this year, and a single course in Shakespeare and the Novel provides enlightenment for the advanced student.

From Silas Marner to Hamlet the English Department provides the rudiments for a well-versed student. Vocabulary studies, grammar drills, and expository writing, compounded by infinite lecture notes, furnish a necessary segment of the educated whole.

Foreign Studies Break the Language Barriers

The Foreign Language Department provides students with the opportunity to broaden their horizons both culturally and linguistically. Aside from preparing students for collegiate courses, the beneficial factors involved in studying a language include a better background for English grammar and a greater understanding of foreign cultures.

Under the direction of Miss Hatley, department head, students acquire the techniques of speaking and writing through varied programs introduced on laboratory tapes. French, Latin, and Spanish complement the whole of South Mecklenburg by contributing an international flair for academic study.

French student confers with Miss Hatley on grammatical points.

The many phases of social studies available to the student at South offer great opportunities for enriching the minds of growing youth. The historical evolution of the world is brought to us through courses in American and world history as well as geography, twentieth century history presents not only material on current events, but also an in-depth study of humanity. The competent student is one who is knowledgeable in the area of social studies.

The Math Department plays a vital role in preparing the student for future endeavors, whether they be in college, business, or other careers. Through algebra and geometry one develops a better sense of logical reasoning which can be helpful in all phases of life. Advanced students can further their knowledge of numbers by taking algebra-trig. and functions.

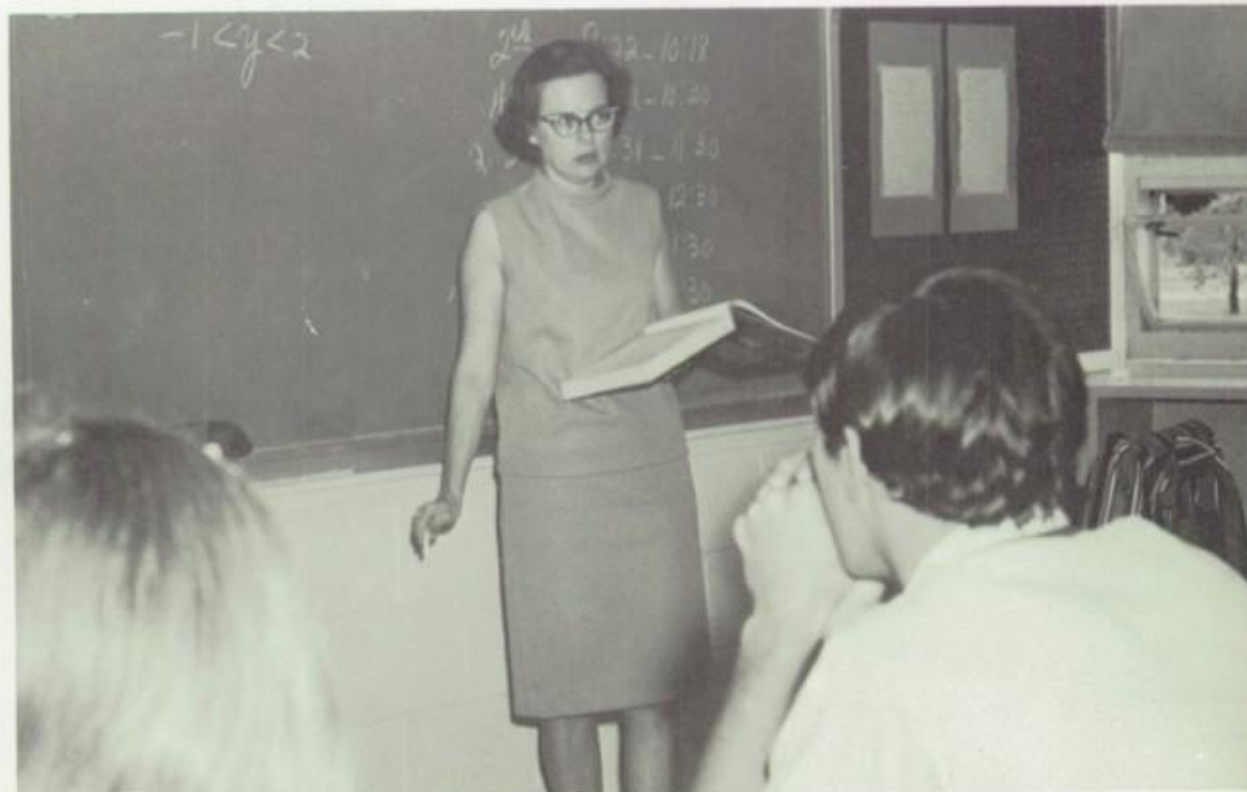

A thorough background in Math is mandatory for every student. Our Math Department fulfills this need through superior instruction in mathematical fundamentals. No matter how you "figure" it, the Math Department is an irreplaceable part of the whole of South Mecklenburg.

In Memory Of William C. Still 1930-1968

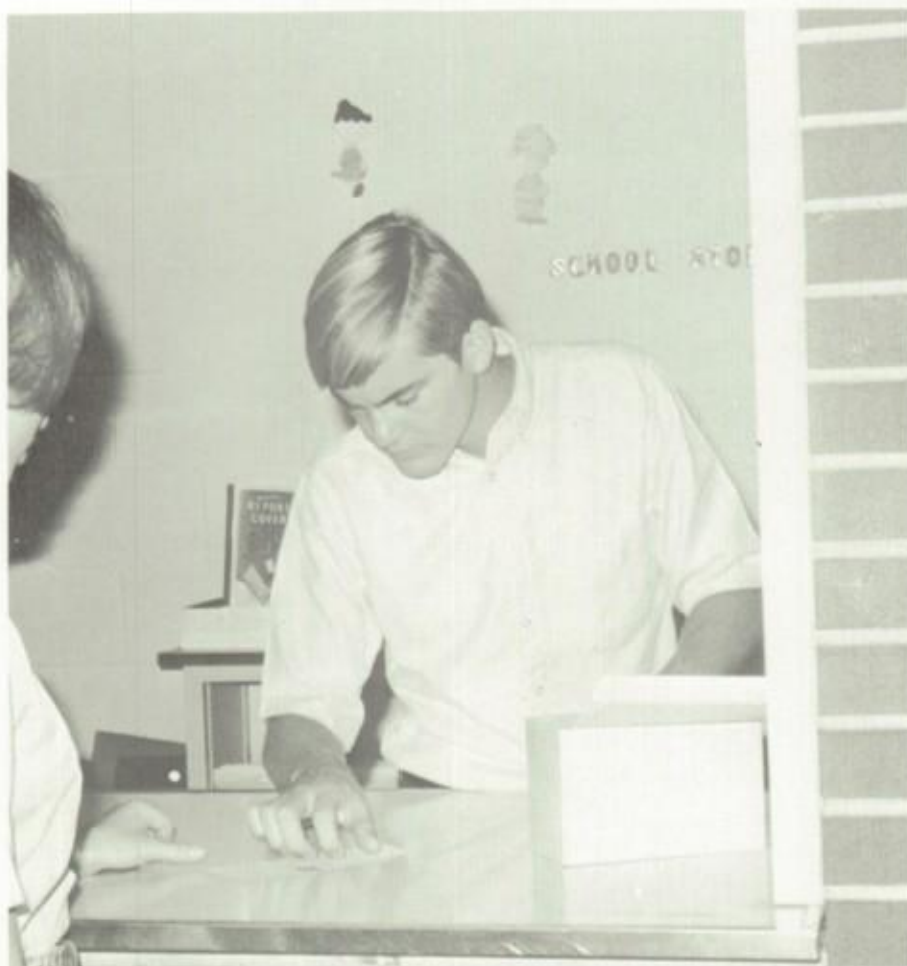

He was a man of many parts. In part he was a competent, thorough, and professional teacher. In part he was a doer, working in all phases of education to better his profession. In part he was an artist and a scholar, broadening his operational skills for more effective teaching. In part he was an enjoyer, full of zest in seeking joy for himself and others. In part he was a friend who gloried in the accomplishments and victories of his fellows, and who was saddened in their disappointments and sorrows. In part he was a devoted husband and father, intensely concerned with his family and its welfare. In part he was the altruist completely revealed in his final earthly act when he laid down his life to save that of a friend. In every part he was complete, and the sum of the parts made the perfect whole. The man — William C. Still.

Spring Activities

*Spring comes to South and with it comes a whole new spirit of living:
A new realm of fads and fashions
"Splendor in the Grass"
Spring sports
Outdoor classes
Concentrated study
A feeling of renewed love
All of these are a part of a feeling of contentment and youthful freedom.*

South Springs to Life

Fluctuating Fads of '69

Upperclassmen enjoy an evening of elegance.

CAMELOT—A Knight to Remember

Committee chairmen discuss final plans for a successful Jr.-Sr.

Jr. class president and class advisor sum up last minute details.

Transformed by the excitement of the event, high school students became fashionable ladies and gentlemen on the evening of April 19, as they entered the world of "Camelot." Held at Independence High School, the Junior-Senior Prom was the climax of the year's social life for deserving upperclassmen. Committees formed in November went right to work and were rewarded by the sparkling look in a young girl's eye as she beheld the imaginary world which had been created for her. Everyone was convinced that "there is just no place for happy-ever-aftering like here in Camelot."

Invitations require decisions on style of lettering.

Miss Helen Graham is the winner of the Interact Service Award. Her selection was based on the characteristics of leadership, service, and character. Helen is also well-known for her constant effort and indefatigable willingness to serve.

Interkeys have established an award for the young man who possesses the outstanding qualities of leadership, character, and service. Mr. Rick Elkins was chosen for his diligent work and high standard of excellence he has set.

Club Awards Recognize Service

Each year the Key Club members, well-acquainted with character, service, and leadership themselves, elect a young lady who best expresses their ideal. Miss Sharon Post continues the club's tradition by standing out as a model of personality and intelligence, as well as being a hard worker.

Mr. and Miss South High

The title of Mr. and Miss South High is the highest honor that can be awarded to any South student. Because Mr. Mike Dailey and Miss Helen Graham have exemplified South's ideals of leadership, scholarship, citizenship, and character, they have been honored with this title.

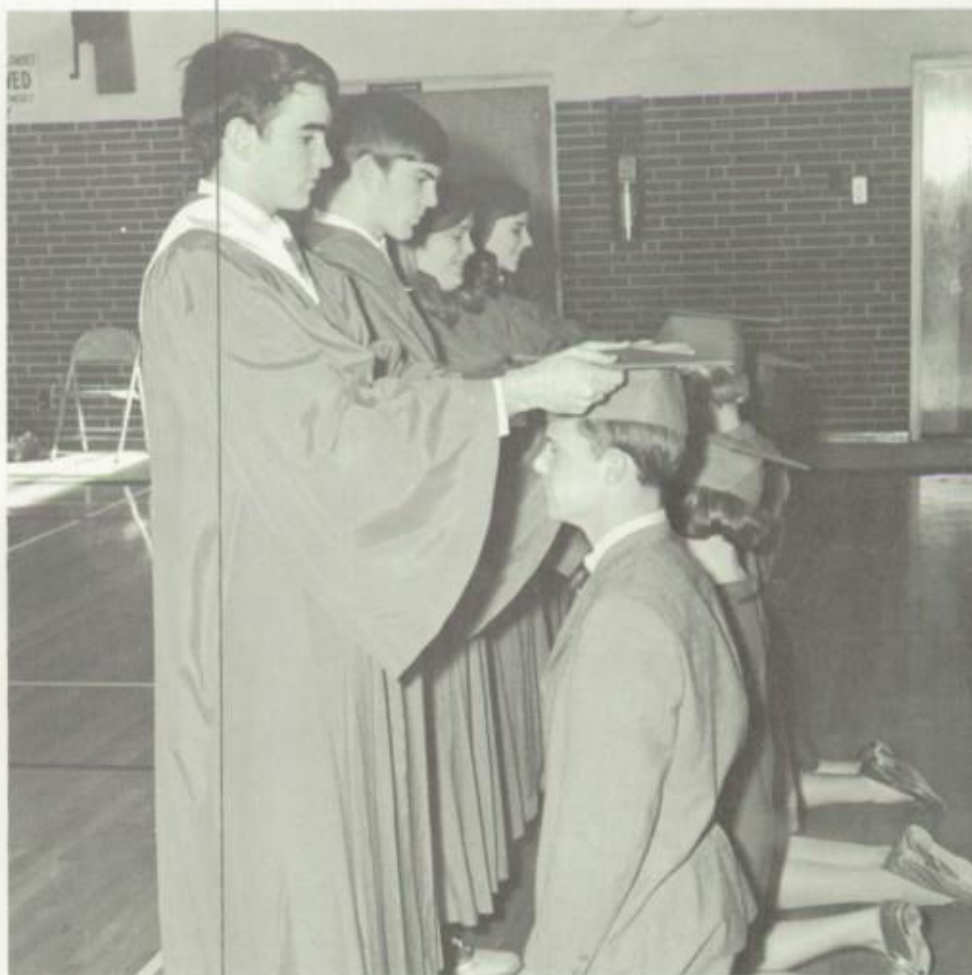

Graduates stand in their last Senior line.

Pride and Solemnity Dominate Class Day

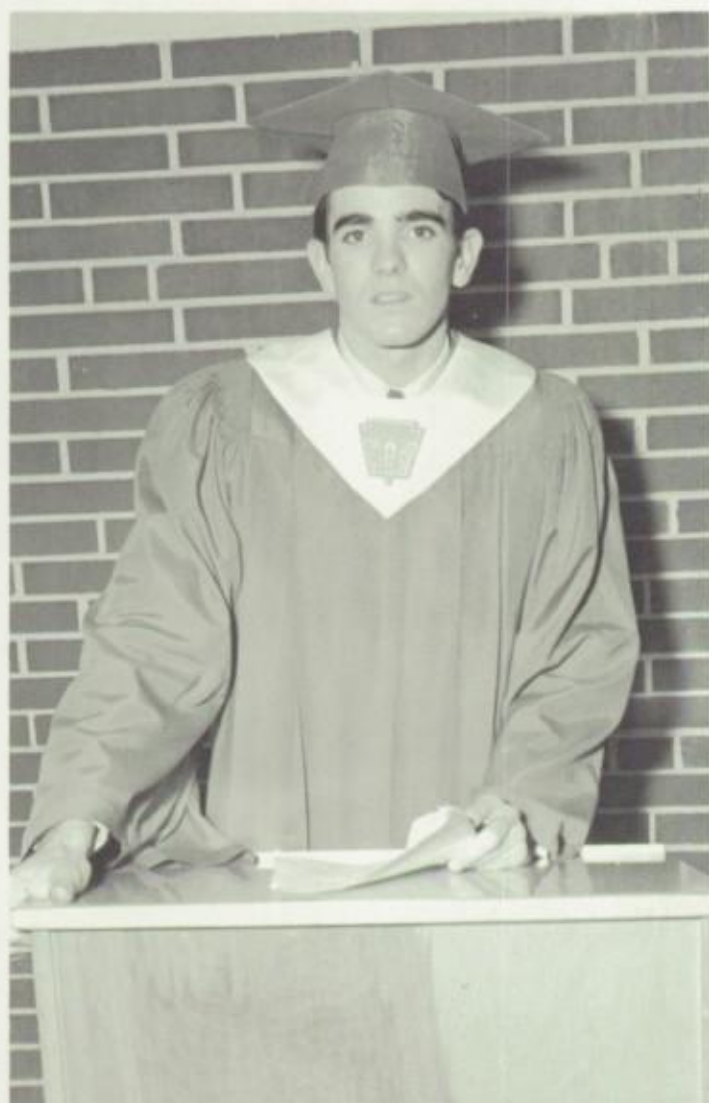

Senior Class members make last minute adjustments on caps and gowns.

To inexperienced sophomores Class Day is merely a formality. Yet as they watch, they learn and are filled with pride—pride in knowing that they are a part of such an institution as South Mecklenburg. For juniors Class Day means white dresses, a few tears, and seniority, as they “kneel juniors, rise seniors.” However, for the graduating seniors Class Day 1969 is more than caps and gowns, prophecies, and “Pomp and Circumstance.” To these select few it is the culmination of high school life and a good indication of what the future holds.

Class officers grant seniority.

Graduation—A Backward Glance And A Forward Stride

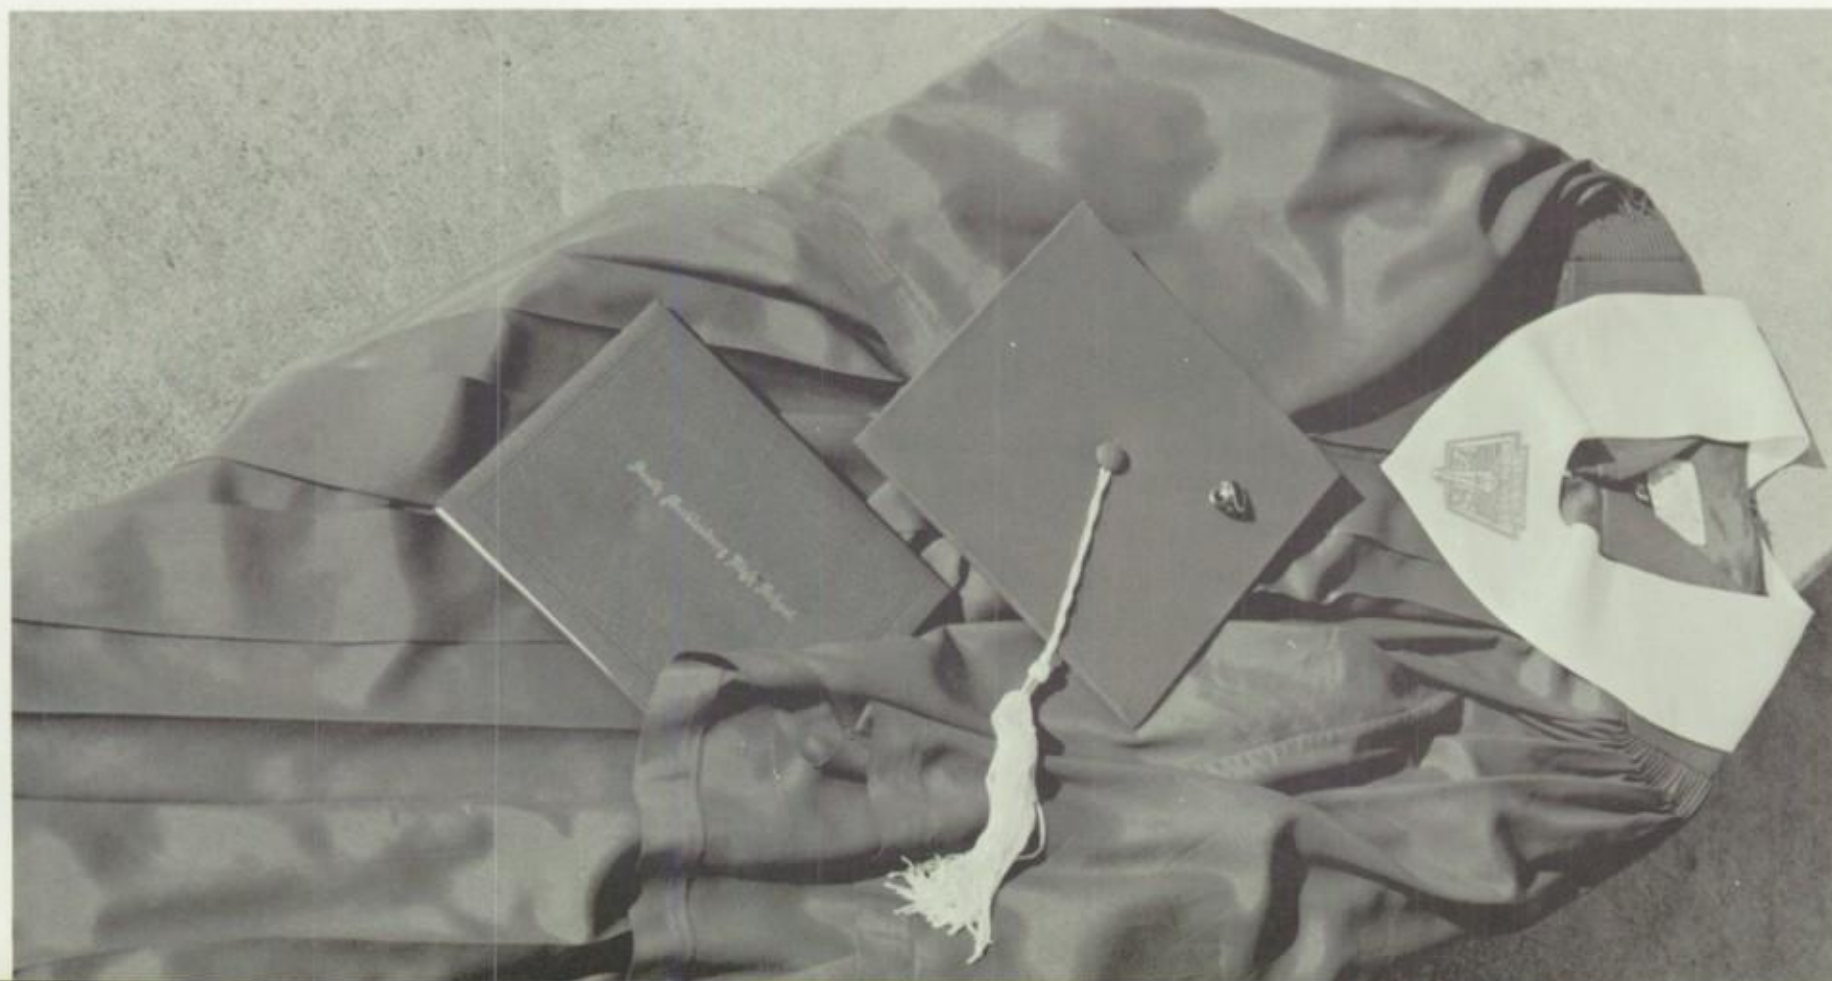

As final duty, senior class president, Rick Elkins, addresses graduates.

At graduation there are tears of sorrow and tears of joy.

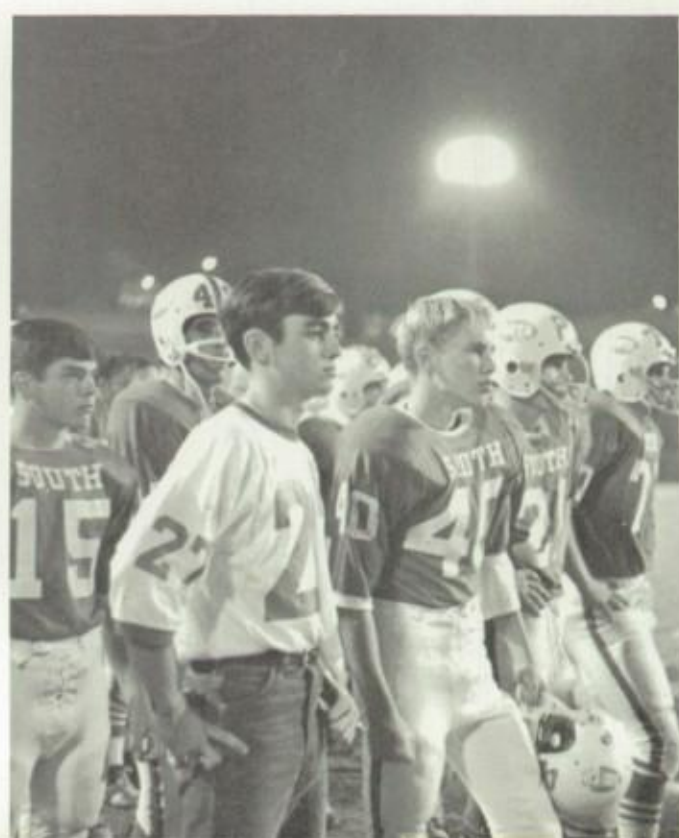

For all seniors graduation is a long-awaited goal and the climax of everything they have grown to know and understand. Although it is the high point of all that life has been, it is more than an ending — it is a new beginning. One looks to the past and remembers the happiness and security he has known, yet he anticipates the new events of the future and plans that which is to come. The senior is torn between adolescence and adulthood. There is pride in knowing that an individual has accomplished. The culmination of the known and the anticipation of the unknown is Graduation 1969.

Remnants of South Mecklenburg graduation.

Memorable Events Which

Contribute to the Whole South

As the end of the year draws near, one can not avoid the realization that each class, teacher, club, activity, athletic event, and each friend is a part of something greater. The sophomore year molds the student, the junior year provides strong influences of impressionism, and at the end of the senior year the finished product emerges—a student ready to face the world. The separate events are important and meaningful; but, when added together they form the whole of South. In a larger sense the sum of these parts is not equal to the whole, but is actually greater. This greatness can be summed up in two words—South Mecklenburg.

*We came.
From many places we came.
We were many,
But we became one . . .
One—in heart, in mind, and soul,
Then we left.*

*To many places we went:
To help others;
To find ourselves;
To serve—we went.*

*We came again,
Together once more.
In love, together we came.
Love for each other
And for those we were with,
In great joy we met.*

*And now we must leave again,
In great sorrow,
Thinking of our separation.
To many places we will go.
We are not the same:
We are one soon to be divided
Let us think not of this,*

*But of the joy of our oneness,
And remember each other as parts of ourselves—
Parts that will always be loved.*

*We came,
And we parted for a while,
And came together again as one—
in love
Now we must part,
And part it is—for in each lies part of the others.*

*A glowing mass has been formed.
A starburst will take place.
Now we go—glowing pieces of the whole,
And in this glow we must live,
For in it we have found the meaning of life,
And by this glow we must guide
others.
This done in love shall keep the glow burning,
And by this fire in us . . .
WE ARE AND SHALL BE ONE*

Margaret,

It has really been great getting to know you this year. You are a wonderful girl and I wish you all the happiness in the world.

Maybe we will be able to get together down at Wanda's house sometime this summer.

Lots of Luck,
Perry Crane

Margaret,
It has been fun in history.
You are a real sweet girl.
I wish you best of luck
always. Have a great summer.
Love,
Carolyn

Margaret,
We sure had fun being 2 P's Ha-ha! But really
it's been nice knowing you this year.
You're a real sweetheart.
Have a great summer.
Love ya,
Carol 4/9

Margaret,
Well, we are finally
getting to be seniors.
How does it feel? It sure has been great knowing you and I hope you are in some of my classes next year. You are one of the nicest girls I know and I hope you have a great time over the summer vacation.
Love ya
David

Margaret,
This year has been unforgettable. This Unkwood has completely put my nerves on edge.
I'm glad to know someone who has struggled about it too. I wish I could have gotten to know you much better.
I hope maybe next year
I can. Love,
Anne 7/9

Margaret,
I don't really know what to say, I guess I could talk about all the times you caused me to get into trouble in L.A.!!
You certainly are crazy, but I won't mention that. Maybe someday you'll get a job at T-Mart and then I'll come pester you the way you did me. Really though,
I have enjoyed knowing you this year, you've really my my Senior year a big hit!! I won't say "Best wishes" or "Good luck"
cause I know you'll have both.
So long for now!
Claudia
Donachus

Elta been great in English hasn't it. Wish for me this summer and all him some more for you. Stay out of trouble and miss it this summer
see ya next year

Margaret,

I've enjoyed knowing you all this time. I want to wish you a happy and hopeful future. Good luck, have a fun summer, and may

all your babies be born
naked! BEST Wishes,
DS

Margaret,
I wish you still
sat behind me in History
I really miss you. Mr. Patton calls me Margaret now. He's kind of absent-minded - anyway I've really enjoyed knowing you you are a real cute girl. Have fun this summer
Love Yr. Theresa

Margaret,
It has been a real pleasure knowing you this year. All our hard work and now we're seniors.
I hope to see a lot of you next year and I also hope you are in a lot of my classes.
Have a nice summer and stay the nice person that you are always. Love ya, Caroline Crisler and I hope you

keep in touch with the couple of years.
You'll go to have a great summer
kiddin'!

Margaret -
It's really been great this year in English. But I never could have passed without being able to look at your notes and copy (in my own words) your themes. But, all kidding aside I really think your a great person and good luck this summer and the farther future in everything you do.
Hope to see ya this summer -
Jeff

Margo,
You are a friend if you ask me. All this time we had so much fun cutting down "you know who" and you, YOU had to go and spoil it all. No, I REALLY am glad you're alive but when you die at least I'll be able to join the ranks of "Queen of the Cutters" once more DIE! I hope you don't come down with Bever any time soon! (It's as bad as acne). There is so much I could write. Like the time you wanted to get picked up so badly and nearly had a heart attack when we finally found a boy dumb enough to want to take us all on at the same time Mrs. Norman: We really Didn't want to get picked up that night - nobody would pick us up with Margaret along - she's too much of a marriageable type.

O.K. MRS. NORMAN - YOU CAN STOP READING NOW
I've gotta hand it to you Margo, you're the best witch I've ever known. You put a spell on Tony and I get the upset stomach. Friend?
I now turn the honor of being — 's best friend over to you. I hope you'll love her as much as I have (and keep her loaded with lard for her hair) But now I'm going against my promise, huh I'd better stop that or I may get a black tongue for punishment. (Jim wouldn't like that)
Have fun this summer & stay out of trouble (Don't get, you know). Best of Luck (you'll need it)!
Your friend + mine, Sandy Overman

Margaret,

This sun has been a great guy! Always remember Carol, Typing, Jemch & Voxloo dolls! I've really had fun + I hope we have lots of classes together next year (hope you go to South!!). Really, you've been one of my closest friends (best friend?)

* I truly appreciate your friendship, fellow witch! ^{AMEN} Always remember Rick (HOW COULD YOU FORGET) + Buddy, especially that wonderful Sunday at Tony's ^{new house}, you know, you never know how much your friends mean to you until you nearly lose them, so you know how much you mean to us all. Good luck always, especially with the gentlemen, + I know sooner or later you'll get that phone call. You know what? You're the first Southern belle I have ever met. What an EXPERIENCE! I hope we'll always be "attached" to each other + "going steady"

Love forever,

Debby (MAC)

Margit,

I decided to write some more so I could fill the page. Here's a flower so you can be a pansy, too.  Now you don't feel left out! Maybe Jeff will ask me out on June 5 like you predicted, I certainly hope so. Please come out to my house this summer + pet Del. I + m gonna get you on her or Chuck if it's the last thing I do! IT MAY BE, too! Here's hoping we meet some males at M.C.'s party  (Wh, that is real artistry) By the way, Romeo was sad + I looked great driving down Independence Boulevard bawling!

Well, bye again.

Everything I do gon' be funky!

MAC
